Cristman Tells Why He Should Be Senator

Thinks He Is More In Step With Republican Party Than Senator Wadsworth Because Latter Favors State Referendum on Prohibition —Australian Blames Newspapers for Not Keeping Silent.

The evening session of the Ulster County W. C. T. U. Convention Thursday was opened at the St. James M. E. Church with the singing of "America," followed by a piano solo by Mrs. Kaley of Milton. The Scripture reading and prayer was by the Rev. J. W. Tetley, pastor of the church, and this was followed by a vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. George Wicks of New Paltz.

Franklin D. Cristman was again introduced as "our dry candidate for senate" by Mrs. Palen and he proceeded to give facts and figures to show why prohibition should be continued and why he should be elected to the senate this fall instead of Senator Wadsworth, the regular Republican candidate.

Mr. Cristmas faced an audience which filled about two-thirds of the church body.

He opened by saying that many say the Eighteenth Amendment has not been enforced and that nothing toward prohibition has been accomplished. Something has been accomplished, he said. Since the day of Washington's Whiskey Rebellion in Pennsylvania whiskey had always been the rebel.

Conditions Then and Now.

In days gone by the legislators went to the hotel bar and there discussed over the cup the legislation of the morrow. Mr. Cristman said that when he was in the legislature one man was returned to the legislature and tried to follow this ancient policy only to find that it was a failure, that not one piece of his legislation was passed. The days of this kind of thing had gone.

Back in his home town of Herkimer before prohibition there were 42 saloons and women and children feared to pass through one street. Since prohibition the saloons were gone and mercantile places replaced them. There was prosperity and happiness.

He said he talked to one man who was at the State Fair at Syracuse and who told him that during the week he had not seen one intoxicated man at the fair. The American people this fall, he said, would be a jury to determine the issue.

Men who used to spend money over the bar now save and have much benefit of prohibition. He stated that in an interview with Col. Gilmore of the Pennsylvania Railroad he had been told that since prohibition there was less loss of time. Prior to that 10 per cent of the men failed to show up the day after pay day with a loss of $1,200,000 a year in time. Senator Wadsworth, however, says that the employes want to return to the old times because now the men are unfit to return to work on Mondays.

One Reason for Failure.

One of the reasons for the failure to more strictly enforce the law, he said, was due to the fact that the enforcement officer is often closely allied with the politician, and too often they are political friends. In dry states you have dry men who appoint dry enforcement officers. However, on the coast and through the north, he said, the appointments are made by wet congressmen and consequently we don't get enforcement.

Men become a slave to their party as do men to alcohol, he said. We must have political parties working toward an ideal. Two years ago at Cleveland the Republican party went on record as being in favor of law enforcement. Belief in law enforcement means the enforcement of all laws including the 15th Amendment. That is the platform of the Republican party. That is why, Mr. Cristman said, he was a candidate for office. He did not believe that Senator Wadsworth was in step with his party.

Calls Referendum "Smoke Screen."

Senator Wadsworth was in favor of the referendum, he desired to throw up a smoke screen and ride into office this fall.

Although advocated by Wadsworth, 70 per cent of the Republicans voted against the referendum, remaining true to their party, but a few combined with the Democrats and the bill was passed by Democrats and a few Republicans and signed by a Democratic governor.

Mr. Cristman charged that Senator Wadsworth as a member of the committee of 50 is out to defeat 150 bone dry congressmen. For that reason he asked if Senator Wadsworth was in step with his party. He charged that Wadsworth was out to defeat Republicans who are dry.

Pledges More "Teeth."

Pledging that if elected he would put teeth in the Volstead law so men who violate it would go to jail, Mr. Cristman received the applause of the audience.

The speaker said Senator Wadsworth believed in prohibition and has stated that he would wipe out the 18th Amendment and Volstead act and give the people something better. Mr. Christman said that to wipe out the Volstead act would be a return to the saloon.

He attacked the Quebec system of liquor dispensing by the government. Under that law it was possible to buy but one bottle at a time, he said, but you could return as many times as you desired and buy as many

Three Injured in Broadway Crash

Alfred Entrott of Abeel Street And Eleanor Banks of Converse Street Removed to City Hospital—Cars Collided at 1 o'clock This Morning.

Alfred Entrott of 139 Abeel street and Eleanor Banks of 6 Converse street were removed to the Kingston City Hospital for treatment following a crash between the Chevrolet car driven by Entrott and the Chevrolet car driven by Carl W. Gill of No. 292 East Chester street about 1 o'clock this morning on the Broadway hill, between Chestnut street and Stuyvesant street. Both cars were badly damaged and were towed to Van Etten's garage for repairs.

According to Gill's report of the collision made at police headquarters he was proceeding up the Broadway hill when his car was struck by that of Entrott which was being driven down Broadway.

Entrott had his right eye somewhat injured and was cut on the head. Eleanor Banks, who was riding with Entrott, received scalp wounds and an injured shoulder. At the hospital later in the morning it was stated that their condition was such that they would be able to leave the hospital shortly.

Gill was cut on the forehead.

The street in the vicinity of the accident was covered with broken glass, most of which was removed by street cleaners as soon as they went to work.

Two Officials to Fight Charges

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP).—One public official is out of office as a result of the Saratoga investigation ordered by Governor Smith. Two others will answer the charges of "wilful and criminal violation of public duty" before the governor Monday.

Commissioner of Public Safety Arthur J. Leonard turned in his resignation to the city council yesterday, convinced that his own conduct had been above reproach. He is the Democratic leader of Saratoga county and one of the governor's personal friends.

District Attorney Charles B. Andrus, about whom much of the inquiry conducted by Justice Heffernan revolved made it clear that he intended to fight the charges, as did Sheriff Arthur G. Wilmot, the third official involved in what the justice termed a failure to suppress gambling operations in the county and city.

Fifth Person to Swim Channel

Dover, England, Sept. 17 (AP).—Norman Leslie Dereham of South End, England, today finished a swim across the English Channel from Cape Gris-Nez, France.

Dereham made the swim in 13 hours, 56 minutes. He left Gris-Nez at 9 o'clock last night and landed in St. Margaret's Bay this morning at 10:56.

The record for the swim is 11 hours, 5 minutes, made by the French baker, Georges Michel, on September 10.

Dereham is the fifth person to swim the channel during the present season. The others who have made the swim are Gertrude Ederle, the New York girl, who set a new record, Mrs. Mille Gade Corson of New York, Ernst Vierkoetter, the German, who cut Miss Ederle's figure, and Georges Michel, who lowered the records of both Miss Ederle and Vierkoetter.

MISS DARWIN AGAIN FAILS TO SWIM CHANNEL.

Dover, England, Sept. 17 (AP).—"Jane Darwin", the mystery girl of England, has again failed to swim the English Channel. Miss Darwin started from Cape Gris-Nez at 2:30 o'clock yesterday and abandoned the swim at 3:30 o'clock this morning, having been in the water for fourteen hours.

In her previous effort, Miss Darwin, on September 8, started from Cape Gris-Nez and was about halfway across the channel when the sea became rough and a southwest wind and she was forced to give up. At this time she was 14½ hours in the water.

BROADCASTING OF SERMONS CUTS CHURCH ATTENDANCES

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 17 (AP)—Broadcasting of Sunday sermons by Pittsburgh radio stations has so cut into the attendance of churches in the Kiskiminetas Presbytery that United Presbyterian Churches of that region have requested the stations to discontinue putting sermons on the air at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Body Washed Ashore.

Croton, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP).—The body of David Sheehan of New York, who is believed to have been pushed from the Hudson river excursion steamer Berrien during a melee off Croton Point last Sunday, was washed ashore during the night.

Mother and Baby Injured in Crash

Thirty-five Stitches Required to Close Wound in Woman's Head After Collision at Wall and Marius Street —Crash Causes Car to Turn Over Several Times.

John C. Corcoran of 23 Post street, this city, driving a Rickenbacker touring car, Mrs. Isabella Smith of High Falls and the latter's baby, Edna May, were injured and removed to the Kingston City Hospital after their car collided Thursday afternoon with an Elgin car driven and owned by Cyrus DuBois, of 36 Washington avenue, this city, who was accompanied by his wife. Neither of the occupants of the Elgin car was injured.

One of the trolley busses was proceeding south on Wall street and stopped at the north corner of Marius street to discharge some passengers. The Rickenbacker, driven by Corcoran, was on its way down Wall street in the same direction that the bus had been before it stopped and was passing the bus when the Elgin car, driven by DuBois, ran out in front of the parked bus to proceed north on Wall street. The two cars collided at this point and the Corcoran car turned over several times.

As the Rickenbacker turned over, loud crashes and breaking glass could be heard and when neighbors and occupants of the bus ran to assist, they found the woman under the car and the baby lying on the roadway. Corcoran was standing near the car in a dazed condition and blood was flowing from cuts on his head and face. He was also somewhat bruised.

The woman was carried to the sidewalk and treated by physicians until the Kingston City ambulance, which was summoned by a Freeman reporter, arrived and took her to the Kingston City Hospital. The baby and Corcoran were also placed in the ambulance.

At the hospital it was found that the woman was in a serious condition, suffering from bruises, a fractured right arm, cuts and a possible fracture of the skull. It took 35 stitches to close a gash in her head. The baby received a contusion on the head and was attended by Dr. E. E. Norwood at the hospital. Corcoran was not as severely injured as the woman and baby and was permitted to leave the hospital after receiving medical aid.

The Rickenbacker of Corcoran was a complete wreck, the top and windshield being torn completely off, and the body and fenders were badly bent. The rear axles were also bent. The car was towed to the Delaware Avenue Garage by Thomas Partian.

The Elgin car, owned by DuBois, was considerably damaged about the front end.

REPUBLICAN DELEGATES WILL LUNCH IN KINGSTON

A party of 60 persons en route from Rochester, N. Y., by sightseeing busses to the Republican State Convention in New York city will arrive in Kingston Saturday, September 25, at 12:30 p. m. and lunch at the Governor Clinton. They leave Rochester Friday morning, September 24 and travel via Geneva, Skaneateles, Cooperstown, Stamford and the Ashokan boulevard. They will go to New York from Kingston by way of Bear Mountain bridge. The party is in charge of the J. C. Kalbfleisch Co. Travel Agency of Rochester.

Sentenced to Penitentiary.

Bennie Diggs was brought to the county jail to await transfer to the Albany Penitentiary where he was committed for 180 days by Justice of the Peace Walter Webber of Flatbush, town of Ulster. Bennie was found guilty of assault, third degree, in assaulting with his fists one Lillian Brodhead. Bennie is one of the colored employes of that section of the town.

Seeking Perjury Indictments.

Somerville, N. J., Sept. 17 (AP).—The state today was pressing not only for the speedy trial of the Hall-Mills murder case, uninfluenced by local prejudice, but for perjury indictments against witnesses whose recent testimony formed a basis for murder indictments after four years of delay.

Unconscious from Bee Sting.

E. B. Myer of Blue Mountain was stung by a honeybee while at work in a field of buckwheat. Mr. Myer was unconscious for nearly two hours due to the sting of the insect. This is the second experience of this sort for the Blue Mountain man.

Noted Power Magnate Dies.

Lancaster, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP).—Charles R. Huntley, nationally known power magnate and president of the Buffalo General Electric Company, died suddenly at his home here today.

New Sign in Subway.

The new sign in the trolley subway, requested by the Downtown Business Men's Association, was placed on Thursday. The sign now points both ways and on one end reads "Downtown" and on the other end "Uptown."

Spiderweb Social Saturday.

The women of Moosehart Legion and the ladies of the L. M. S. Circle will hold a spiderweb social at the Hoeck bakery, 92 Broadway, Saturday evening. All are welcome.

Boy Scout Work Will Continue in Ulster County

Men Interested In Welfare of Organization Decide Scouting Is Too Valuable to be Abandoned—Practice Work Needed Besides Enthusiastic Rooting—Deficit to Be Wiped Out.

Boy Scout work in Kingston is not to be abandoned, but supported adequately for at least two years more, according to the decision reached at a meeting of interested men at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Thursday night. Charley Ramsey presided at the meeting and after a thorough and earnest discussion in which unpleasant as well as agreeable facts were faced, the decision was arrived at.

Among the points brought out during the discussion was that from a purely economic standpoint it is cheaper to keep boys in the Boy Scout organization than to keep them in jail for life; that times have changed since "you and I were young" and there are new complications and new temptations to be met, which must be met with new methods, of which Scouting has proven to be one of the most efficient; that the shortcomings in the past should not be punished by punishing the Boy Scouts, who were in no way responsible for errors in administration, that these errors are in process of correction and the deficit of $4,000, incurred by past administrations, has been reduced by the present administration to $2,600.

Scout Usefulness Renewed.

The Rev. Joseph B. Scully of St. Mary's Church spoke earnestly of the new needs and of the changes in the social structure that must be met. Scouting is constructive—it is character building, he said. It gives opportunity to predispose the boy for ideals to be taught later. At one time Scouting was knocked bowlegged in this city, but under the present leadership it has been straightened out and has renewed its usefulness.

Rooters Must Help.

Father Scully spoke in high praise of Mr. Smith and his labors but insisted that the work was too heavy a burden for one man. We must corral talented young men to help. They should be instructed and their work supervised. It is hard to get interest in work of this kind because of the competition of other things such as movies or ball games. Even in these things it is easy to get interest but hard to get action. They will be enthusiastic spectators and rooters, but it is hard to get them in the game.

Must Clean the Slate.

In reviewing the discussion, Mr. Ramsey said there had been much said about getting new blood in the organization. That was a good thing and necessary, but this is not the time to turn the work over to new blood. Those now in charge cannot in honor turn aside from the responsibility until they can turn the organization over to others with a clean slate. There is still a deficit. This must be wiped out by those now in charge and Scouting placed on a solid basis before there is any thought of turning it over to others.

After going on record in approval of a campaign to raise a budget for two years, so as not to inflict a campaign on the people every year, the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

Fourteen Answer To Roll Call

At Annual Reunion of Old Twentieth Regiment Held at Epworth Hall on Clinton Avenue—Former Officers Re-elected at Annual Session.

Fourteen veterans of the gallant old Twentieth Regiment answered present at the roll call today at the annual regimental reunion held at Epworth Hall on Clinton avenue. The business session was held in the morning when the following officers were re-elected: President, Virgil Britt of Port Ewen; vice president, Augustus Cole of Ulster Park; treasurer, Alfred Tanner of Kingston.

The fouricen veterans who responded to the roll call were: Virgil Britt, Port Ewen; J. H. Clark, Ellenville; Augustus Cole, Ulster Park; John W. Haight, Closter, N. J.; Stephen Humphrey, Port Ewen; George Markle, Albany; George Pells, Kingston; J. S. Pierce, Kingston; Ira Porter, Duryea, Pa.; F. A. Raenhart, Kingston; Joseph Switzer, Poughkeepsie; Alfred Tanner, Kingston; E. B. Vail, Brooklyn, and John J. Van Keuren, Rifton.

It was decided to hold the 1927 reunion on the same date as today—the anniversary of the Battle of Antietam.

Following the business session dinner was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Tappen Camp, No. 1, Sons of Veterans, after which the veterans enjoyed their annual camp fire.

In Police Court.

Arthur Freer of Tillson was arrested at Poughkeepsie Thursday by Officer Soper on a warrant obtained by George Plattbaher, the Strand grocer, charging Freer with petit larceny. This morning in police court the charge was withdrawn and Freer discharged. The trial of Mr. and Mrs. Metro Hausman, arrested on a warrant obtained by Mary Karel, charging assault in the third degree, was adjourned to September 27.

Governor Smith Will Run Again

Supreme Court Justice Wagner Will Oppose Senator Wadsworth—Other Names on the Democratic Slate.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—Democracy's state leaders emerged today from a conference with Governor Smith, assured of a leader and several planks of the platform.

They agreed that the leader would be the governor, seeking re-election for a fourth term at the insistence of his party and that the candidate to oppose Senator James W. Wadsworth would be Supreme Court Justice Robert F. Wagner of New York.

Other names on the slate, as it was presented when the conference adjourned were:

For lieutenant-governor, Edwin Corning of Albany, state chairman.

For attorney general, Benjamin Stolz of Syracuse.

For comptroller, Maurice S. Tremaine of Buffalo.

Selection of the ticket was not without compromise. After the conference had gotten well underway, it was known that a controversy had developed concerning one of the selections, and later on it developed that the difference arose over the choice for attorney-general.

The candidacy of George Kent Shuler of Lyons, one of the chief contenders for comptroller and a former state treasurer, was withdrawn after the action had received the endorsement of Franklin D. Roosevelt by long distance telephone. Mr. Roosevelt was one of the chief supporters of Mr. Shuler, who had received endorsement from 33 county organizations.

The party platform will be a wholehearted endorsement of Governor Smith and his policies with some emphasis on the governor's program of reorganization and his successful handling of many of the state's problems.

The conference followed two other important political developments yesterday. At a conference in New York, independent Republicans who have endorsed the candidacy of former State Senator Franklin W. Cristman for United States senator, announced they would place a gubernatorial candidate in the field. Connecticut Democrats, gathered at New Haven, adopted a platform calling for decentralization and repeal of the Volstead Act and Eighteenth Amendment.

CLAIMS HE IS VICTIM OF SENSATIONALISM

Chicago, Sept. 17 (AP)—Wilfred O. Cross, a youthful and obscure seminarian who suddenly leaped into notice after an avalanche of criticism from students, college presidents and bishops because of his article on morals of under-graduates published in a church paper, sees the thing as an "amazing storm in a tea cup."

In a letter to the Daily Illini, student publication at the University of Illinois at Urbana, Cross claimed that he had been the victim of newspaper sensationalism because of his "bit of hack writing in an obscure paper."

"I am certainly no fit person to try panning institutions as immoral," he wrote. "To most people my own moral standards are shockingly perforated. In this amusing storm in a tea cup I am surprised to see myself represented as an impossible fanatic canting over the souls and sins of my fellow collegians."

Car Hit Boy on Bicycle.

Chester C. Davis of Middletown reported to the police department Thursday that his Dodge touring car had struck Robert Brown, 11 years old, of No. 142 Third avenue, who was riding a bicycle. The accident occurred on Broadway at Staples street. The boy was uninjured but his bicycle was somewhat damaged.

Trooper Lawrence Not Improving.

The condition of State Trooper A. J. Lawrence, who was injured in the accident at Hudson last Sunday, is considered very serious. He is in the Hudson City Hospital suffering from general septicemia which developed from his injuries and the amputation of his leg near the thigh.

Moonlight Confetti Dance.

The first annual moonlight confetti dance of the M. S. C. Athletic Club will be held at the White Eagle Hall, Delaware avenue, Monday evening, September 20. Zucca's orchestra will furnish the music and a good time is assured to all.

Aged Man Dies From Fall.

Walter Cooper, aged 72, a former resident of Hudson, fell from a tree in an orchard on the farm of George Hallenbeck in Greenport on Thursday and was instantly killed. The cause of death was a broken neck received in the fall.

Excursion to New York.

The last two Sunday excursions of the Steamer Homer Ramsdell of the Central Hudson Lines to New York and return will occur on Sunday, September 19 and 26, the boat leaving Ferry Street Landing at 6:45.

Westmoreland Held Captive.

Hankow, China, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Chinese military authorities at Wanhsien have occupied the quarters of the China Inland mission in that town, and are holding three British missionaries captive.

Summer St. Dump Blew Up Thursday

A Number of Children Playing Around Burning Dump Ordered Away by Fire Chief a Few Minutes Before Dump Exploded—Still Burning.

A fire in the Summer street city dump, just off Pine Grove avenue, early Thursday evening attracted a large number of the children to the scene as the fire department responded to a still alarm. While the firemen were fighting the flames the children were amusing themselves by using old boards and pieces of cardboard as shields to ward off the heat and approaching the fire as closely as possible.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy when he noticed the children ordered them away from the vicinity, and a few minutes later the dump suddenly exploded and fiery particles of burning rubbish were hurled high in the air, and part of the burning dump slid out, covering the spot where the children a few minutes before had been playing.

The fire chief stated that the explosion was undoubtedly caused by oil drums and other debris that had been placed in the dump and which expanded under the terrific heat. He said the explosion hurled blazing material from fifty to sixth feet in the air.

It was fortunate for the children that they had been ordered away from the burning dump or they would have been seriously injured.

The firemen worked all night fighting the fire, and it will probably be several days before it is brought under control.

White House Spick and Span

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—A repaired and renovated White House was in readiness today for the impending return of President and Mrs. Coolidge from White Pine Camp.

Painters, cleaners, mechanics and other workmen have toiled throughout the summer to make the home coming pleasant, and the executive mansion testified today to the success of their efforts.

A new coat of spotless white glistens on the outside walls. A new dustproof roadway replaces the old gravel approach to the front door. A new electric elevator runs smoothly from the basement to the upper floors. And old things are made to appear new. These include the famous east room, which has been given a freshness it has not known for years. Even the wood bins in the cellar have been cleaned and filled to keep the hearth fires burning this fall and winter.

Ma's Regime To Be Probed

Austin, Tex., Sept. 17 (AP)—Charges of irregularities in the administration of State departments, which were leading issues in the two Texas primary campaigns, in which Attorney-General Dan Moody defeated Governor Miriam A. Ferguson for re-election will be investigated by State Legislators assembled in special session by the woman executive to validate a large road bond issue.

After a stormy session yesterday, the House of Representatives voted 104 to 22, for an investigation of various departments under Governor Ferguson's regime and set aside $25,000 to finance a committee of nine house members in conducting the inquiry. The committee is to be appointed by the speaker and will report at the next regular session of the Legislature in January.

SESQUI WILL BE OPEN FOR FOUR SUNDAYS

Philadelphia, Sept. 17 (AP)—Mayor Kendrick today said the Sesquicentennial Exposition will be open on Sundays for at least four more weeks, despite the opinion handed down by the Dauphin county court at Harrisburg ordering the celebration to close on the Sabbath.

City Solicitor Gaffney informed the mayor that the court's decision did not become final until after the filing of exceptions by the Sesqui-centennial Association and that the association had 20 days in which to file its exceptions.

BABY FELL FROM SECOND STORY; FOUND UNINJURED

Marius, two and half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Simmons of 8 Harrison street, Poughkeepsie, had a miraculous escape from death or serious injury Wednesday when he fell about thirty feet from the second story front porch of his home, landed on a wire fence and bounced off onto the sidewalk. He was bruised about the body, but Dr. E. M. Burns failed to find any serious injury.

Found Guilty of Murder.

Gary, Ind., Sept. 17 (AP).—William "Red" Donaldson, a former Texas cowboy, was found guilty of murder in the first degree of Joseph Mullins of Gary, by a jury here today, with a recommendation that he be sentenced to life imprisonment. Donaldson was charged with having fatally shot Mullins so that he might marry Mrs. Mullins. Sentence was deferred.

Australian Wants Prohibition Made Law for Everybody

Tells Ulster County W. C. T. U. That Australia Looks to America to See Success of Prohibition—Says Newspapers Print "Propaganda", Challenges Buckner's Statements —Cristman Favors More "Teeth".

The afternoon session of the 47th annual convention of the W. C. T. U. of Ulster County, held at the St. James M. E. Church Thursday, was taken up in the reports of various committees and by the impromptu talks of several of the local clergy and visiting clergy who were called on to give their impressions and observations of the effects of the 18th Amendment. At the conclusion of these brief talks, the two speakers of the afternoon, the Hon. Franklin D. Cristman, dry candidate for United States senator from Herkimer, and Gifford Gordon of Australia gave brief talks on the benefits of prohibition as they saw them.

Several of the clergy of Ulster county were called on by Mrs. J. Albert Palen, president of the county W. C. T. U., who presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers.

Underfed Before Prohibition.

Prohibition has been a wonderful benefit to the country and has been the means of much prosperity, said one of the speakers. He had watched the young children on their way to school. Before prohibition they had been underfed, ill-clothed and lacking many comforts. Now he observed a change, they were well fed, well clothed and more happy than before prohibition when "the saloonkeeper often opened the pay envelopes of the father". People who before prohibition came, he said, had been unable to save money, were now driving automobiles, and he asked the people what they were going to do on election.

Says Newspapers Are Wet.

The Rev. Putnam Cady said he always got all "het up" when he saw the stuff the newspapers were publishing on the prohibition question. He said, however, that the people had more sense than the newspapers seemed to think they had. He said the papers were practically all wet and were preaching that side of the issue. However, he predicted that on election day Senator Wadsworth and others would learn something. The drys, he said, were not making so much noise as the wets but they were fighting for their cause.

Several of the speakers referred to the fight now on between Senator Wadsworth and Mr. Cristman for election this fall and urged that the fight be carried to the polls on election.

Australian Tells Us Our Duty.

Following these several impromptu talks by the members of the clergy, Mrs. Kaley of Milton gave a very delightful solo and then the first speaker of the day was introduced, Gifford Gordon of Australia.

Mr. Gordon opened by stating that Australia is now fighting against a wet government, wet papers and police officials in the same manner as the United States fought some years ago. The average American citizen, he said, failed to appreciate the tremendous influence of the United States on the rest of the world.

In a very interesting manner he told facts of his country which in land miles is bigger than the entire United States, but with a population of the city of New York. His country, he said, was looking to the United States for assistance in building up Australia and it was America to which the island looked for assistance. Everything American from a Ford car to a Heinz pickle was to be bought in Australia and most of the goods sold there were American. So, too, Australia was looking toward America for prohibition. The Eighteenth Amendment had its effect on Australia and the people were taking notice of the effects, as was the rest of the world. Failure of prohibition in America would mean failure throughout the world. Everyone is interested in the outcome here.

Newspaper Facts "Propaganda."

However, he said, the effects of the big metropolitan presses, controlled by the wets, was felt in his native land where papers printed accounts of the failure of prohibition in America and of the near approach of the appeal of the law. The same stories were published in Australia as in America telling of the failure and how the prohibition act had been "put over" during the excitement of the war. In consequence of propaganda which they read the people of Australia say that if prohibition is a failure in America it would be a like failure in their land.

Mr. Gordon told how he was sent to America to investigate at first hand the effects of prohibition and of the thousands of miles he traveled during his year's study of the problem here.

"Loose Talk," Without Investigation.

It is the loose talk, believed to and repeated, that is creating such a disastrous effect on prohibition here. Stories told and repeated without being investigated are the cause of the great public idea that prohibition is a failure, he said. He told of the great decrease in the alcoholic hospitals since the coming of prohibition, how one great chemist lec-

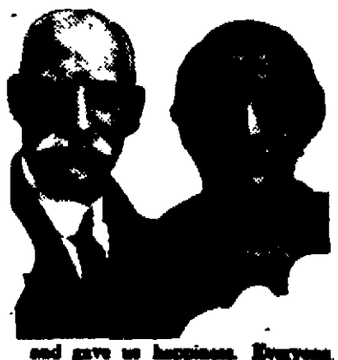
Tanlac Bestows Happiness On New York Couple

Rochester Man Now Being Congratulated on His Surprising Recovery from Stomach Trouble and Run-Down Condition



If you are nearing the tragic moment when good health slips from you; if indigestion, nervousness, kidney disorders and ailments caused by a run-down condition torture you, benefit from the remarkable experience of William Little who suffered untold agonies for many years only to later regain his health and strength.

Sitting in his comfortable home at 165 Glenwood Avenue, Rochester, N. Y., Mr. Little recently said: "My condition was unbearable. I watched myself slowly fade away. I suffered from stomach trouble and nervousness which caused splitting headaches that almost drove me mad. I had no appetite for food. And when I ate I paid a high price, suffering from indigestion and gas which made me belch and caused burning pains. For days at a time I could not even sit up in bed.

"I looked underfed, weak and scrawny. I sought relief, trying this and that without success. Then Tanlac came to the rescue.

Now Mrs. Little is delighted with my condition and so am I. Am feeling stronger and healthier. My stomach trouble has never returned. I eat everything without a thought of pain. This great tonic built up my strength and gave us happiness. Everyone should take it, regularly."

Mr. Little is only one of many fortunate men and women now enjoying the benefits of good health and vital strength, thanks to Tanlac, the safe, effective remedy made from roots, barks and herbs.

Learn from their experience and good health and strength can be yours, too. The first bottle of Tanlac shows amazing results. Ask your druggist for Tanlac—today! More than 40 million bottles sold.

FOUR PRESIDENTS USED GOLD KEY

Electric Device Used at Washington to Open Great Expositions.

Washington.—Whenever a famous exposition or ceremony is opened at long range by the President of the United States he uses a gold electrical key studded with precious nuggets, the only instrument of its kind in the world.

Four Presidents—Taft, Wilson, Harding and Coolidge—and one first lady, have touched the key's handle to signal the commencement of expositions and other projects of national importance.

When not in use, the instrument is carefully guarded by its owner, Edward W. Smithers, chief telegrapher at the White House, who has been on duty there since the day after the battleship Maine was blown up in 1898. It was given him by President Taft, who used it for the first time in 1909 to open the Alaskan-Yukon Pacific exposition in Seattle. The key was specially designed for that occasion, being mounted upon a slab of Alaskan marble, inset with Alaskan nuggets, and presented to Mr. Taft at that time by George W. Carmack, discoverer of gold in Alaska.

Wilson Got New Year Thrill.

Probably the most unusual touch ever felt by the instrument was that given at three o'clock on a New Year's morning, when Woodrow Wilson, clad in pajamas and bath robe, descended the stairs of the White House to signal from the east room the opening of the San Diego exposition. The year 1915 had reached Washington three hours before, but the President's touch caught the year 1914 in San Diego in its last dying gasp and caused the big fair grounds to burst into a blaze of light as the old year passed out and the new year arrived.

Another big event, which the gold key was a part, occurred in 1913. As the key was pressed by President Taft on that occasion, the waters of the Pacific and the Atlantic met for the first time in the Panama canal. The electrical impulse sent out from the White House caused the explosion in the big waterway which blew away Gamboa dyke, removing the last obstruction between the waters of the two oceans.

Mrs. Coolidge Opened Session.

President Coolidge used the key to put the machinery of the $37,000,000 Skagit hydroelectric plant in Seattle in motion, and Mrs. Coolidge used it on two occasions to open women's meetings far from Washington.

Smithers is extremely proud of his possession. He keeps it stored away at his home, but many sightseers who have heard of the unusual historic relic insist upon adding it to the list of famous things in Washington they can tell of having seen with their own eyes.

"Just the other night," Smithers said, "four men from Oklahoma drove up to the house about midnight to see the key. They wouldn't leave until I got up out of bed and showed it to them."

Kidnap Girl, 15, to Marry Her, Is Arrested

Augusta, Maine.—The Vermont "kidnaping" of eleven-year-old Lucille Chatterton from her hill home at Granville, that state, a year ago, by Earl Woodward, "The Hawk of Lost Nation Mountain," found a striking parallel in this city with the arrest of "Gypsy" Jerry Blair of Belfast and Jennie May Cook, fifteen, also of Belfast.

Woodward's defense was that he took the Chatterton child away from a home of sordid surroundings, abuse and squalor, to live in the open woods, where she might have a better life. Blair's defense is the same, with the exception that he intends to marry Miss Cook. The Cook girl is of the same turn of mind.

The girl said that she had willingly left home with Blair, and that she wanted to marry him. She is large for her age, and would pass for twenty-one.

It was revealed that the girl's sister was married to one of Blair's brothers, but parental objections have blocked the wedding of Jennie and her suitor.

Calls Girls' Garb Too Scant to Hang Gems On

Philadelphia.—The modern girl does not wear enough clothing to hang jewelry on, William R. Cooper of Minneapolis told the National Wholesale Jewelers' association convention here. Mr. Cooper is president. "As a result," he said, "the women of today are taking to wearing expensive jewelry out of sight of the male gazers, such as jeweled garter buckles and lingerie sets.

"I believe that the feminine love of jewelry is finding expression in this manner, for there is no marked falling off in sales."

Like Their Jobs

Washington. — The three women members of congress like their first session so well that they expect to run for re-election indefinitely. Mrs. Kahn, Mrs. Norton and Mrs. Rogers will have nought to do with mammoth campaign plans, either. They are to make strenuous fights of their own devising.

Ancient Ideas Wrong

The old speculations as to the great difference of levels between the Mediterranean and the Red sea, and on the two sides of the isthmus of Panama, have been proved by modern leveling of high precision to be totally erroneous.

E. Lawrence, Mrs. Alex Frowa and Arlington D. Brown. All reported a delightful evening. A delicious chicken supper with all the good things was served by the hostess. The guests departed in the early hours of the morning, wishing Mrs Van Etten many more happy birthdays.

Miss Meriam A. Brown was a week-end guest of Miss Beatrice Gray at Middletown, Orange county. Miss Brown reported a very pleasant visit and with Miss Gray and other friends attended the clambake on Sunday afternoon, September 12, at Mavers Lake. The bake was given by H. M. Stanton Company of Middletown.

Mrs. Susie Hummel of Krumville spent Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Alex Brown.

Gulf Tid.& Far-Reaching

Tides from the Gulf of Mexico affect the waters of the Bayou Teche, in Louisiana, more than 100 miles upstream, says the Dearborn Independent. The bayou is 30 feet deep at a point 70 miles from its mouth, while the elevation of its banks at that point is only 10 feet.

Carmel Myers In Chic Cowboy Hat and Scarf

The cowboy hat and scarf outfit is new. Carmel Myers, the "movie" star is first to follow this fad by tying a gay printed scarf rakishly at the side in cowboy fashion to accompany the white felt cowboy hat, so popular this season, and which she wears in "Tell It to the Marines," her latest production.

Fashion Briefs That Will Interest Women

The latest version of the popular frock of Chinese damask has a chemisette front to add to its aspect of manishness.

Afternoon and evening frocks of moire often exploit a new shade of deep red, which is one of the smartest colors for early autumn.

The white wool suit on tailored lines, worn with the rather elaborate white silk or organdie blouse, is charming with the colored hat and colored footwear.

Just as suddenly as belts disappeared from all our gowns, so have they returned. The suede belts in bright colors vary in width from a quarter of an inch to three inches. Suede hat bands often match the belts.

A material for which success is predicted in early fall is moire. It is used both for evening frocks and for day-time costumes. One of the most attractive dresses is made of dark blue moire with touches of white in the collar and jabot.

One of the very feminine conceits of the mode is the use of the flower bracelet—a flower the color of one's frock, is slipped into one's bracelet or a ribbon band allowed to fall over the hand. Needless to state, this style is only for evening.

The red shawl for evening is given a conspicuous place as a complement to the white chiffon dance frock. Another charming fashion is seen in a fan gathered cape of red velveteen which is worn over a white evening dress.

New sport handkerchiefs made of heavy-quality silk in light shades and having rolled hems and thread-line borders are just as useful as they are decorative. One corner is richly embroidered in raised work in small flower designs that take in a variety of colors.

If asked what is the outstanding feature of midsummer fashions, one would answer without hesitancy, the vogue of printed chiffons. Sheer and lovely in texture, either striking or subtle in coloring and with designs which reveal the artistry of the modern textile designer, this material has achieved an amazing success.

Untrimmed Slippers to Maintain Popularity

Pumps, untrimmed slippers retain their popularity and are to be found in the wardrobes of the most fashionably dressed.

The vogue for the unusual has brought the dancing shoes into great prominence. Their selection must be discreet, for there is a vast difference between gayety and vulgarity of taste.

This is equally true of frocks as well as slippers. Brilliance of coloring and broadness of pattern must go hand in hand with discrimination. Colors cannot be too bright, but they must be beautifully combined and the frocks they decorate must follow the lines of fashion.

Jumper Frocks Shapeless

Sleeveless jumper frocks accompanied by short sports coats are among the summer sports styles. One lovely model made of cherry red silk broadcloth has its skirt portion of the jumper of white, dotted with tiny cherry-red dots, and its red coat is lined in the white-dotted jumper material. A black satin ornament tie and the English collar of stem type.

Gowns in Suit Style

If a young lady is uncertain as to the straight lines and abbreviated sleeve of the present evening gowns, she should buy the "robe de style" to fit itself on. This term designates a gown which in its composition is not in style, but which is fashioned in the vogue and consequently is fashionable in style for her.

Artificial Silk Satin

A new material, which has beauty of silk or mercerized cottons for appearance, is the artificial satin made of cellulose preparations. It comes in a range of colors and has a lustrous finish.

The death of John L De Mar removes one of the most original and successful of American cartoonists There was much humor in his drawings, causing a pleased smile even while they effectively punctured the pretensions of machine politicians

The fifth annual installment of five millions has just been paid out of the United States Treasury as indemnity for our government's part in assisting the secession of Panama from the United States of Colombia The Senate refused to ratify the indemnity treaty until oil was discovered down there and American interests were eager to obtain concessions, but undoubtedly Colombia had a just grievance and a right to damages to the extent of $25,000 000

TOO MANY SIGNS

One cause of motor car accidents is that drivers have been deceived so many times by signs meant to deceive that they cease to pay attention to any signs by the roadside. Indeed, the driver who reads all of the signs must travel not faster than five miles an hour and make frequent stops in order to do so This condition can be easily remedied. No signs not imperatively necessary for the direction of traffic should be permitted along a highway From the current issue of the official magazine of the American Automobile Association is taken the following timely and pertinent editorial:

The American Motorist herewith appeals to highway officials everywhere to take steps for the removal of misleading signs from the highways We have particularly in mind signs erected by farm houses, small inns, and filling stations, which appear to make a deliberate effort to imitate the legitimate and necessary warning signs put up by the States. As an example, one frequently runs into a sign with the legend "STOP" or "SLOW DOWN" in large letters, and instinctively obeys, only to find that he had been fooled by the advertisement of a "chicken dinner" or "podunk gasoline". This reprehensible practice is never indulged in by the large commercial houses that go in for outdoor advertising, but is very common on the rural sections of our main traveled highways where catering to the motor tourists is a business and a fashion. Not only does it cause irritation, but it also develops a bad psychology on the part of the motorist, for the reason that the man who is fooled by such misleading signs is apt to pay less attention to warning signs, failure to heed which may very well result in tragedy.

These signs flourish in the country districts and are placed by small and inexperienced business men who know nothing of the correct and profitable way to advertise. They think a "smart Alec" sign is good advertising. Big advertisers, who have studied the matter, know better. They know that deception, trickery and irritation are not good advertising.

TO PREVENT OIL SHORTAGE.

Although other supposed experts have disagreed to an amazing extent in regard to this country's visible and potential oil resources the Federal Oil Conservation Board has issued an impressive warning that the said resources are perilously limited The summary of the board's findings, after careful inquiry covering a year and a half, reads as follows: Since 1859, when the industry began in Pennsylvania, 650,000 wells have been sunk, one-fifth of them without fruitful result. During 67 years nine billion barrels of crude oil have been taken out of the ground in this country, last year's output being 750,000,000 barrels. But it is significant that one-third of the great total has been consumed as well as produced during the last years More than half of current production is from about 4 per cent of the producing wells, drilled within the last year or two, and from pools opened within five years. This country is consuming as well as producing 70 per cent of the world's total production The available reserves in producing fields amount to only about four and a half billion barrels—theoretically about six years' supply. The maintenance of current supplies demands constant discovery and drilling of new wells.

Among the measures to meet the need urgently recommended are the following: Exploration and development of new fields throughout this country and Latin-America Deeper drilling and improved methods generally. Control of production through State legislation, so as to stop "frenzied competition" in drilling and pumping, which now involves "prodigious waste." Improvement in the mechanical devices in which oil is used, whereby "one-fourth of the present consumption of gasoline could be saved." Increased production by distillization of oil from coal and by extraction from the vast deposits of shale

Obviously the wisest precautionary measures are demanded by the dependence of so large a part of our industrial life, national defense and domestic comfort upon continuing adequate supply of lubricants for all machinery and fuel for the ever increasing millions of automotive engines.

That Body of Yours

WHY PHYSICIANS DO NOT LIVE LONG.

The United States Registration Bureau tells us that the general death rate of all classes is now about 12 to the 1,000 every year, but that the death rate for physicians is 17 to the 1,000 In 1880, the general death rate was 20 to the 1,000, but in reducing it to 12, the physicians have not made a good record as far as their own lives are concerned

Why is it that physicians have such a high death rate, when they know more about how to preserve health, and to prevent and cure disease than any other one class?

The natural inference is that it is contact with the sick that causes the trouble, because they spend their lives in the midst of all kinds of infection. In all the epidemics that come along the physician works with patients in their homes and in the hospitals. Yet records show us that it is not these acute infections that carry physicians off.

I remember one hospital during the flu epidemic in 1918 where nearly two thousand patients were treated There were thirty physicians in attendance every day, some of whom, treating the flu-pneumonia patients, worked night and day, and yet only two of their number were stricken with flu and their stay in bed was about four days each.

What are the ailments that carry off most physicians? They are heart disease and pneumonia

This is explained, and rightly I believe, by a writer in one of our medical journals. He tells us that when a patient has heart trouble he is put to bed, and free as far as possible from worries and anxieties, but the doctor having trouble with his heart, still sticks to his post and is lost in his care for others.

Further, if he should have any other infection, he feels that his duties call him to them, and that he gets out of his sick bed days sooner than he would permit a patient to get up.

As you know the lying down position requires only one-fifth as much work from the heart as does the actual getting around to visit patients.

And a weak heart is a real liability when pneumonia comes along.

Of course, the remedy rests with the physicians themselves.

Statistics tell them the story, which they know only too well

The lesson for you and me is the same old one, and that is to get to bed if we find temperature and pulse up, and to stay there until they come down, and stay down

Disclosed Hemline Is British Fashion Note

The disclosed hemline will be featured this autumn, according to the plans of the British haute monde.

Two and three-piece suits will be worn, with full-length coats that are to terminate just an inch above the dirt hemline.

The ensemble in its original form is also favored by smart English women. Apparently all opposition to this theme as being fashioned and ill-mannered has disappeared, and the ensemble may now be said to have won a permanent place in the mode.

Breaking Peaks Low in Stock

The evening finds present a short audit and other evidences from the front. The most that at that point is very high and only slightly extended. But the trade—all there is to the trade of many evening dresses is a gain of corporations of the material which attends to the dress at a low valuation, and starts at a point on the upon whose the low dividend that went in in.

Today's Story in New York History

By Frederic A. Godcharles.

(Copyright, 1926, by the Author)

New York's Part in Framing Federal Constitution Signed by Hamilton, September 17, 1787.

In the spring of 1783, when events foreshadowed an early acknowledgment of the independence of the United States, Congress set itself resolutely at work to bring into harmony the discordant legislation of the several states, and to consolidate the Union which had been organized in the tumult of war This could only be effected by an increase of its own power.

On April 18 Congress recommended to the several states, as indispensably necessary to the restoration of the public credit, and to the punctual and honorable discharge of the public debt, that they should invest Congress with power to levy certain import duties, providing, however, that the collectors though appointed by the states, should be amenable to and removable by Congress alone

All the states except New York had in pursuance of the recommendation granted the imposts by acts vesting this power So far from adopting this recommendation, the Legislature of New York on November 18, 1784, passed an act imposing duties on goods imported into her territory, which of course prevented the operation of the impost in the other states, which had granted the power conditionally on the general assent of all the states New York also accepted bills of credit for duties which further endangered the general arrangement of Congress This want of harmony among the states was not only the source of embarrassment at home, but exposed the young nation to the contempt of foreign powers.

The country was in serious jeopardy. Even Washington, with all his firmness, despaired of the republic.

Each of the thirteen states had its own seaport, and each relied complacently on its own enterprise and power, but various efforts were devised to correct this evil, the most important of which was when the General Assembly of Virginia on January 21, 1786, appointed commissioners to examine the trade of the United States, and consider a plan for a uniform system of their commercial relations, and to report to the several states.

A circular letter of invitation was sent to the states, and on September 11, 1786, commissioners presented themselves at Annapolis, Md., from five states, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Virginia. Four other states had appointed commissioners

New York sent Alexander Hamilton and Egbert Benson. The commissioners refrained from any recommendations without a majority of the states being represented, and adjourned to meet in Philadelphia on the second Monday in May, to then devise provisions to render the Constitution of the Federal Government adequate to the exigencies of the Union.

Congress on August 11, 1786, appealed to Pennsylvania to repeal her imposts and asked the Governor of New York to convene the Legislature to again consider the recommendation of April 18, 1783.

The popularity and influence of George Clinton was unbounded. Elected Governor for the fourth time in 1786 strengthened the independence of his opinion, and jealous for the welfare of his native State, he discerned on the part of some, at least, a determination to establish a landed or class aristocracy. So he refused to call the Legislature in extraordinary session. It met, however, in regular session January 2, 1787, and the Governor addressed the two houses on the 13th. The address was referred to a committee of which Alexander Hamilton was chairman.

The report of the committee caused a political division in the Legislature which resulted in a great debate, during which many skirmishes and not a few battles were fought. The delegates of the State in Congress were instructed to move for the revision of the Articles of Confederation, this resolution was carried by a single vote.

New York sent Alexander Hamilton, Robert Yates and John Lansing, Jr., to the Philadelphia convention. Hamilton enacted a most conspicuous role and led in the debate for a Constitution, while Messrs. Yates and Lansing left the Convention, when it was definitely settled that the views of the Federalists would prevail, and returned to their homes, leaving to Hamilton alone the honor of affixing his name to the great charter of the American Union on September 17, 1787.

The ratification of the Constitution was left to the conventions of nine States. This action proved the wisdom of leaving to the people the final work.

The next step was to prepare the public mind to accept the conclusions of the Convention and secure the ratification of the new Constitution. Again Hamilton led the way and with James Madison and John Jay met the opponents of the national scheme with power and vigor, and wrote a series of powerful papers in favor of the Constitution, which in collected form, made a volume called "The Federalist."

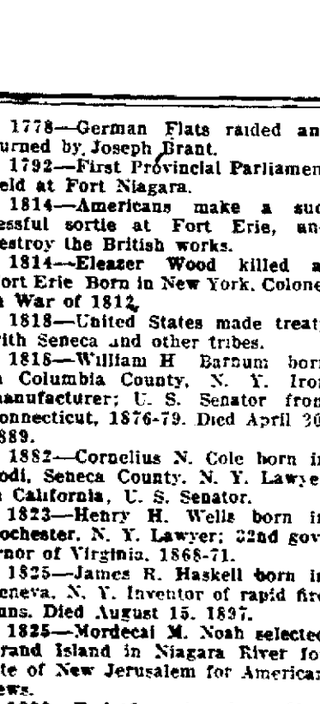
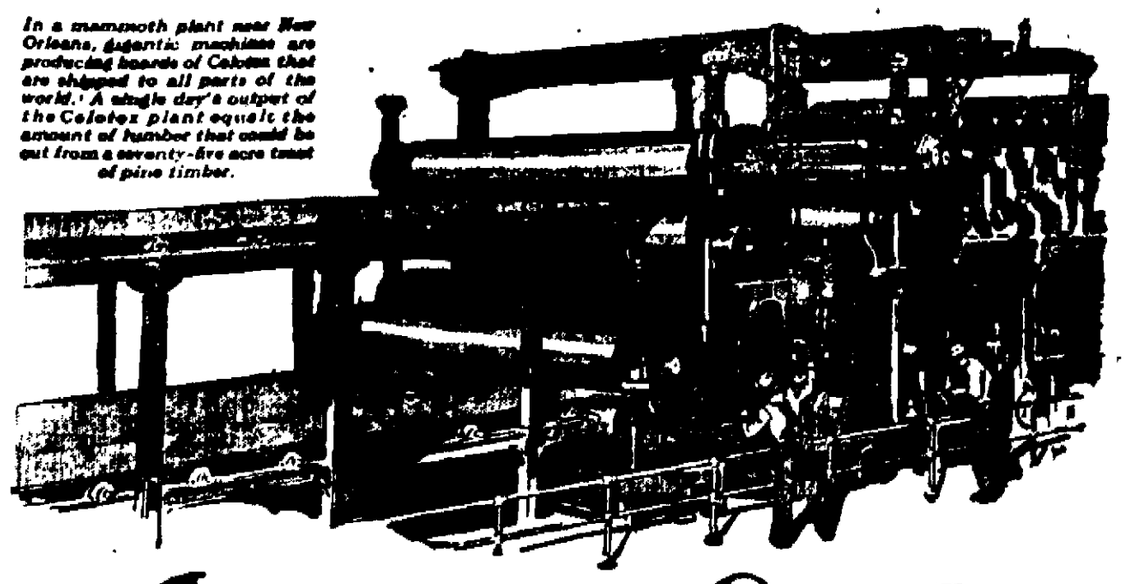
The Difference

Indiscretion is what a great man is guilty of when he's just a plain darned fool.



The Beauty of Childhood
A Clear Healthy Skin

Make and keep your child's skin healthy by using Cuticura Soap every day assisted by Cuticura Ointment when required. Nothing purer or more effective.



In a mammoth plant near New Orleans, gigantic machines are producing boards of Celotex that are shipped to all parts of the world. A single day's output of the Celotex plant equals the amount of lumber that could be cut from a seventy-five acre tract of pine timber.

Amazing Lumber
that isn't cut from trees!

Celotex stops heat and cold many times as effectively as wood lumber . . . is stronger in walls . . . yet costs no more to use. Year after year, it will save from 25% to 35% of your fuel money.

FIVE years ago, a way was found to make lumber that possesses structural advantages plus insulating properties that wood alone can never offer.

It was a complete new building material: a heat-stopping lumber that banished cold draughty rooms and wasted fuel in Winter . . . hot, stuffy rooms in Summer.

This amazing lumber is Celotex. It is not cut from trees, but manufactured in broad strong boards from the tough fibres of cane. It is enduring . . . scientifically sterilized and waterproofed. Celotex is stronger in walls than wood lumber and many times better as insulation. Wind and moisture can not penetrate it. It quiets noise.

ACTUALLY saves money. Unlike ordinary insulation, Celotex is not an extra item in building. Wherever used, it replaces other materials, adding insulation at little or no extra cost.

With the walls and ceilings or roof of your house covered with Celotex a smaller, less expensive heating plant and smaller radiators will keep you comfortable. And year after year, Celotex will save from 25% to 35% of your fuel bill!

NEW COMFORT for old houses. In houses already built, a big measure of this comfort and economy is being secured by lining attics and basements with Celotex.

Let us tell you more about Celotex before you build or buy.

How Celotex is used in both old and new houses

AS SHEATHING
Celotex supplies the insulation needed back of brick, wood or stucco exteriors.

UNDER PLASTER
On inside walls and ceilings, plaster is applied directly to the surface of Celotex.

IN THE ROOF
Celotex applied over or underroof rafters gives protection where it is most needed.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

By Mary Graham Bonner

UNDER-BED DUST

The children had been left to keep the house tidy and to look after everything while their family went away for a few days.

Not a Dish Had Been Washed.

Everything was all in readiness for them to take hold of, so that it would not seem as though there were any changes.

The children, the older ones, were able to look after themselves for a few days.

Extra food had been cooked and extra chores had been done.

Well, it was great fun at first. It was so wonderful to feel that the whole house was just for play.

They played all afternoon and evening and when they went to bed they were tired out.

The next morning they got breakfast, but after it was over they found so much to do in the way of playing that they put off doing the morning chores right away.

Then came lunch time and they had a gorgeous picnic.

Later in the day it was time for supper, and they had a fine supper.

But when it came bedtime they remembered that they had not made up the beds that day.

"No matter," they said, "we can sleep all right, as the beds are all ready for sleep. We just left them as we were last sleeping in them."

But the beds did not seem just right. In their jumping about and playing of the night before they had pulled the sheets and blankets out of the ends of the beds, and they felt very cool around the toes.

It was hard to tuck them in afterward, and if they succeeded in tucking them in, then they seemed too far tucked in and weren't all right for the shoulders.

But, uncomfortably, they managed.

Then morning came and it was time to get breakfast. But not a dish had been washed and there weren't many dishes left.

They just managed to get along.

At lunch time they knew they would have to wash dishes, but they went raspberry picking and did not need any dishes.

Alas, when it came time for supper how dreadful it was.

The dishes had not even been rinsed with water, and they were almost impossible to wash.

They were just dreadful.

And oh, the beds were in such a state.

And oh, they seemed to take so much longer over them.

It took ever and ever so long to get to bed. They were doing chores until all hours.

And then, in the middle of the night, what should appear pushing them up in bed, but castles of dust growing up under the bed.

"We're the Undone Chores, rulers of the Castles of Dust.

"See how we build under the beds. Oh, we make such fine castles of dust if no one comes around to stop us.

"Do not think you're the only ones to permit the Undone Chores to come and take possession.

"Years ago some of those who are now grown ups did the same and we ruled for quite a long time.

Didn't Need Any Dishes.

Even now we begin to start building and they stop us only just in time.

"We're hard rulers, we Undone Chores. We make things so hard.

"Oh, so hard. We just pile up work for everyone. We dwell in our Dust Castles and look out of our turret windows edged with dirt and we won't help them get out of the tangle."

"When you see under-bed dust you will know the Undone Chores are going to come around if they are not stopped in time."

Broken Leg Birthday

Just a year ago little Ruth met with an accident and her leg was broken.

She remembered the date of the accident well and reminded her mother of it by saying: "Mother, today is the birthday of my broken leg."

Only Man-Eater Present

Bobby looked curiously about the girls' lone dormitory room, where I had taken him with me to eat and [illegible] conversation whispered hoarsely to me: "Why, Sis, is I the only man-eater here?"

The young woman who boasts that her face is her fortune should realize that she will in time have to charge off quite a lot for depreciation.

The sky is brightest when bluest, but it's different with a map.

The office boy made a slight mistake and the boss was now finishing a long tirade on his general inefficiency.

"You're a fine kid, you are!" he howled. "Here I've taught you everything I know and still you don't know anything."

A husband is a person who goes out regularly and comes in irregularly.

Many a young man poses as hard-boiled when he's only half-baked.

"Henry, it's raining cats and dogs. We must lend Mrs. Whittaker an umbrella or she will get drenched going home."

"My dear, it's impossible. The only umbrella we've got has her husband's name engraved on it."

Broadcasting Stations You Have Heard—WBAL

Station WBAL stands like a gigantic sentinel on the highest plot of ground within twenty miles of Baltimore. Its elevation is about 660 feet higher than the center of this seaboard city, and the absence of sharp peaks or steep valleys in its vicinity gives the 5000-watt Western Electric transmitter freedom from interference.

Some ten miles of copper wire are buried beneath the transmitter to form as nearly perfect a ground-system as possible. Two antenna towers, 400 feet apart, support the antenna, which is in the form of a six-wire cage between the towers.

WBAL is the station of the Consolidated Gas, Electric Light and Power Company of Baltimore and its programs are controlled from studios in the heart of the city's business district. Although it has been on the air only a few months, WBAL has already attained a reputation for distinctiveness in several lines. First, it lives up to its motto as a "station of good music," for it broadcasts only programs of the highest standards. Again, the station has worked out a unique acoustical treatment which permits the walls of the studio to be made open and a novel microphone system which insures perfect balance of musical programs.

Sound Waves

The bureau of standards says that two sound waves meeting each other so that the condensation part of one wave meets the rarefraction part of the other will neutralize each other. Strike a tuning fork and twirl it slowly about its axis. The sound will become faint four times in a revolution, where the two sound waves from the two prongs interfere with each other.

HATHORN AND GEYSER MOST BENEFICIAL

Natural Sparkling Health Waters That Quickly Prove Results

It pays to get rid of the things which put an extra strain on the heart, such as indigestion, acidity and unhealthy conditions in the stomach and alimentary tract.

Hathorn natural sparkling laxative water, bottled under State supervision at the State Owned Hathorn spring at Saratoga, is a trustworthy eliminant. Its action is gentle and natural. Taken before breakfast it gives every crook and turn of the canal a thorough cleansing. The taste is delightful. For generations Hathorn has been prescribed by physicians, endorsed by health authorities and praised by millions who have journeyed to Saratoga for the purpose of drinking it. They have it shipped to them all over the world because they know that it is a pleasant and effective drink to keep them in good working order.

Geyser is a delightful table water that relieves acidity and indigestion. If you have eaten too much sweet, drink Geyser. If you have eaten too much meat, drink Geyser. If you have eaten too much starchy food, drink Geyser. If your food seems food that is too rich, drink Geyser. You will be surprised how it serves conditions back to normal so that you feel as if you had eaten just the right thing and are digesting it in a positively healthy way.

Senator Thaddeus H. Caraway urged the removal of American war dead from France because of French insults. Senator Lynn J. Frazier announced himself opposed to seating of William S. TOOLS HAVE STOOD TEST OF CENTURIES

Workers of Long Ago Not So Unscientific.

Modern civilization is very proud of itself for its achievements in technology. Everything, from the modern steam shovel to the tool that fashions mainsprings for watches, is hailed as proving how far advanced we are over the benighted, unscientific workers centuries ago. But an English scientist recently summed up the things wherein we use the same old methods employed hundreds and even thousands of year ago, and the list is a revelation.

Bricks furnish perhaps the most striking example. About 3,000 years ago a certain method was found for making bricks—the best method available then. We use practically the same composition today. An Egyptian brickmaker's mold of the Nineteenth dynasty is precisely the same in shape and construction as those which are used today in fields where bricks are still made by hand.

The modern square and plummet are also exactly like ancient Egyptian specimens, and the stone mason's mallet still retains the shape it had in 2350 B. C. Even the composition of the mortar has not changed for at least 2,000 years—lime and sand, with the addition of hair as a binding material, were used by Roman builders.

Consider the hide tanner. The chemist has made many changes, but oak bark is still the best—as it was almost the earliest tanning substance.

Even linen has the first stage in its manufacture the same as it was in primitive times—the "retting" of the flax, either by steeping it in water or by simply exposing it to the dew, in order to remove the softer tissues and leave the fine fibers.

A humble thistle is still the best tool with which to raise the nap on woolen cloth, the nap being the external covering of fine short fibers that lie smoothly all in one direction. It is so expensive, however, that the machine process is usually preferred.

The origin of the potter's wheel is lost in antiquity, but those used today, although driven by electricity, differ practically not at all in pattern from those of ancient times.

From wall paintings found in Europe, it seems almost certain that the pipe of the modern glass blower has a direct descent of at least 4,500 years without essential change.

Machinery is all right for producing second-quality gold leaf, but the finest English gold leaf is still beaten by hand. The small pellet of gold is placed between layers of goldbeaters' skin (the prepared outside membrane of the large intestine of the ox) and hammered and rehammered with a wooden mallet, just as the best method has always been.

There are many more examples to this unending list of things where the tools of a past era are still supreme today—the sickle, the pestle and mortar of the chemist, the carpenter's mall, the navvy's pick and—add your own observations.

Swinging Baskets Puzzle

For several months scientists have been puzzled by swinging baskets brought from Borneo and set up in the Peabody museum, Cambridge, Mass. As soon as they were in place, reports Popular Science Monthly, they began their peculiar swinging, which suggested perpetual motion. Many explanations for this phenomenon were offered, but none seemed to cover it satisfactorily. Some thought there was something supernatural about the baskets, since they were originally "grave offerings." Finally two young scientists succeeded in stopping them by putting a kink in the wire from which they hung.

Explaining Much Misery

Few things are needed to make a wise man happy: nothing can make a fool content: that is why most men are miserable.—La Rochefoucauld.

The KITCHEN CABINET

(©, 1926, Western Newspaper Union.)

Failure is, in a sense, the highway to success, inasmuch as every discovery of the false leads us to seek earnestly after what is true, and every fresh experience points out some form of error which we shall afterward carefully avoid.—John Keats.

SALADS AND SALAD MAKING

Salad making is an art which may be expressed in attractive color combinations with vegetables, fruits and other foods.

We all enjoy artistic effects in foods and have a natural longing for some new and fetching way to serve the ordinary foods.

Almost any food that is edible may be combined to make a salad, yet we would avoid combining foods which do not harmonize.

Carrots, potatoes, turnips and beets are usually cooked before using in a salad, yet with carrots, grated fresh, mixed with celery, onion and nuts, one has a very pleasing salad.

If our stomachs are able to dispose of the cellulose in vegetables, which is uncooked, the starch will be taken care of without trouble.

When a salad is to provide the main dish of the meal it should be carefully considered. Salmon, shrimp, tuna, chicken are all good salads for the main dish.

An arrangement of a salad as well as its garniture is most important. Who has not refused to eat a dish which had an unattractive appearance when it was perfectly good and wholesome. The eye being the first organ of digestion, the perfection of combination and flavor amount to but little if the salad has been carelessly prepared.

When such firm vegetables as potatoes are used in a salad, the dish will not be well seasoned unless the salad has been marinated with either French dressing or a thin salad dressing for several hours.

Green plants such as lettuce, endive, cress and parsley, whose charm lies in their fresh crispness, should be kept well chilled and served at once when the dressing is added.

Cucumbers make delightful salad combinations with other vegetables. The red radish, unpeeled or cut into tulip forms, makes pretty decorations which have a double attraction, being edible.

One Possible Place Left

In one household in the city a favorite expression used by one member is "under the circumstances." But the user didn't know she was overworking it until recently. She was looking the house over for a portfolio, with everybody in the family assisting, including a three-year-old niece. Finally she sank down on a chair in desperation.

"We've looked everywhere," she groaned. "Can anyone think of any place we haven't looked?"

"Oh, auntie," said Janie, suddenly struck with a thought, "have you looked under the 'circumstances'?"

Inherit Color Blindness

Color blindness, recent studies seem to indicate, is hereditary and is the result of a defect in the central nervous system, says the Popular Science Monthly. It occurs oftener among boys and men than among girls and women, but in boys it is frequently only color ignorance, rather than an inherent defect.

As a corrective, special attention now is being given in the public schools to developing color sense during the formative

Better than Ever-

Following their traditional policy of constant improvement with no yearly models, Dodge Brothers, during the past eight months, have vastly bettered their motor cars in many vital respects.

Indeed, there has never been an equal period in Dodge Brothers history when so many refinements of a popular and fundamental nature have been made.

The public is registering its appreciation of this progressive industrial service by purchasing every motor car Dodge Brothers can build—in spite of the fact that Dodge Brothers production, during these months, has broken all previous records by an impressive margin.

Hold Diphtheria Clinic Sept. 24

Of the 1,300 Children Who Have Received Toxin Antitoxin Treatment in Kingston None Have Developed the Disease—Four Cases Here This Year.

A state-wide drive is being made this year by the State Health Department to eradicate diphtheria and Kingston, as in former years, will hold a series of free clinics for the administering of toxin antitoxin. The first of the series of clinics will be held Friday afternoon, September 24, at 2:30 o'clock at the city hall, and parents with children should bear that date in mind.

The toxin antitoxin treatment was inaugurated in Kingston several years ago and during that time some 1,500 children have been immunized. Four cases of diphtheria have been reported in Kingston the past year of which number three were adults. None of those who had been immunized, however, had diphtheria.

RURAL REFORMED CHURCH SERVICES SEPTEMBER 19

Bloomington—The Rev G E. Kerr is to conduct the services at the usual hour of worship, 9:45, daylight time.

Sam was an old southern darkey whose amiability would never permit him to acknowledge a thing could not be done, even though he was utterly at a loss as to procedure. He was called by a tenant in the flat where he was janitor to examine a leaky pipe. "Now I could find that leak," he said, scratching a bewildered head, then adding, in a burst of inspiration, "ef I could jest locate it."

Paint that is cheap by the gallon—is not cheap by the job

A practical spreading test shows that this paint goes farther

TRUE paint value is measured not by the cost per gallon, but by the number of square feet a given quantity of paint will cover—smoothly, completely, and satisfactorily.

If equal quantities of different paints were spread on your house you would be surprised at the differences in the areas they would cover. Cheap paints would cover inadequately. The better the paint, the farther it would go.

Over and over again, by this simple spreading test, practical painters and scientific laboratories have found that Devoe Lead and Zinc House Paint possesses superior covering and spreading capacity.

Because it covers better, spreads farther, and lasts longer, it is the most economical paint you can use. Some other paints cost less than Devoe per gallon, but no other costs as little per job.

Devoe Lead and Zinc House Paint is guaranteed to give satisfaction when applied according to directions.

172 Years of Experience

For the outside of your home, for the walls inside, for the woodwork, the floors, the furniture, there is a particular Devoe paint, varnish, or enamel, backed by Devoe's 172 years of experience. We recommend Devoe products. Bring your paint and varnish problems to us, and get dependable advice. Practical tests prove Devoe Quality.

Climatic Changes

The evidence that climatic conditions have changed in the Arctic and Antarctic circles is mainly geologic. It is believed that tropical conditions existed as far north as Greenland between the glacial epochs. Remains of animal and vegetable life have been found in these regions, which indicated that once the climate was warm enough to permit of their growth and existence.

A. A. Drive Is Under Way

The annual drive of the Athletic Association of Kingston High School was opened Thursday directly after dismissal and was continued this afternoon.

The results up to last night were as follows: Juniors leading with 69, and followed by the sophomores with 56; seniors, 38, and freshmen, 36. The factulty with 22 paid up members undoubtedly has the largest per cent. Seven of the alumni have also joined.

MECHANICS' BARBECUE AT FORSYTH PARK

The attractions offered in Kingston on Saturday, September 18, are novel, interesting, educational and appetizing. The merchants always have good values and quality goods to choose from, so plan to come early and get your shopping done as the rest of the day will be so full of other things to do that you will not find time to do it.

Starting at 2 o'clock in Forsyth Park will be the Jr. O. U. A. M. Barbecue. The various committees have held a number of group meetings and have everything in readiness. W. Von Berg of the Advance Restaurant will have charge of the barbecue assisted by a number of men who have had experience along this line.

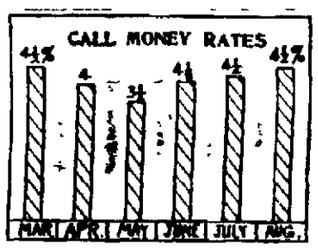
Friday night they will assemble and start a fire in the trench that has already been prepared and burn enough wood in it to make a deep bed of coals. In the early hours of the morning they will place over these coals hugh pieces of beef and proceed to barbecue them, this operation needing constant attention to keep the beef from burning.

The menu as outlined by the committee will consist of barbecued beef. This will be all choice cuts of first quality loins, potatoes, pickles, dressing, rolls, butter and coffee.

After the barbecue will be the prize drill by the Patrols from the Court of the Orient. Arrangements are being made to hold these on the Fair Grounds near the big tents where the merchants of Kingston are hoding the big Exposition. From this point the parade will form and march to the Junior Order Hall on Henry street where a ceremonial by Rajah Court will be held.

BONDS STEADY.

Babson Park, Mass., Sept. 17.—(Special). The movement of bonds in recent weeks has been so slight as to be of practically no consequence. In fact, for the last six months the market has been almost stationary. Even the seasonal stiffening of money rates has had no appreciable effect on bond yields.



Call money rates reached a low in May of 3½ per cent, and since then have risen each month, reaching 4½ per cent in August, with an increase last week to 5 per cent. Indications are that after the crop movements the rate will again decline

SPENCER'S SCHOOL, KINGSTON PIONEER.

Spencer's School is Kingston's pioneer business training institution. It was founded 37 years ago when Kingston was considerably smaller than now, and the school has kept pace with the growth of the city. During its long period of service Spencer's Business School has stood for the highest ideals in business methods, for sound preparation of its students and for the upbuilding of the community.

The public, parents and pupils are cordially invited to make an investigation and inspection of the fine new quarters of Spencer's Business School. The day and evening sessions are now open for the registration of new pupils.

Must Cooperate With Farmer

Noisy Minority in City Who Abuse Farmers Do Not Represent Majority Opinion, But All Must Join in Finding Remedy for Existing Conditions.

After Rotarian Ashton Hart got fairly going with his address to the Rotary Club at the Wednesday luncheon this week nobody was sorry that Mr. Hart was speaking as a pinch hitter for other talent that had failed to appear, for everyone realized that no other talent would have been as interesting instructive and timely as Mr. Hart was. Having been called on a moment's notice, Mr. Hart did not have time to decide on the title of his address, but it was about farming, farmers, country and city, business men and industrialists and their relations to one another, with something about their misunderstandings and the need for acquaintance with the problems and personalities of city and country that would dissipate some of the prejudice and misunderstanding.

Being a farmer himself, as well as other things, Mr Hart discussed the farmer's viewpoint, based somewhat on the expressions made by a small number of noisy city men who do not represent the majority. As an instance of this, Mr. Hart referred to the abuse showered on farmers at the Daylight Saving hearing last spring before the common council, by a speaker who did not at all represent the fair-minded and thoughtful majority

Farmer Entitled to Respect.

The farmer realizes that his business is basic and essential, that without him people could not live, and that he is entitled to live as well as any. He deserves respect, not only for this, but because he has to be an expert business man, far-seeing, intelligent and industrious. The American farmer is not a peasant or a yokel, but a good citizen who has the finest and most essential job in the world. During the recent depression and readjustment there have been fewer bankruptcies among farmers than in any other class of industry and yet the farmer has suffered most from the depression. But by his hard-headed and progressive business methods he has kept going by cutting costs and adopting methods of producing at lower cost. He has weather conditions beyond human control to contend with and these have not been favorable, yet he has cut production costs and is still going on. True, he has not made good depreciation and unless conditions become more favorable he must reach the limit of his ability.

City Man Must Help.

It behooves the city man to consider this condition and join with the farmer in finding a remedy. Without the purchasing power of the farmer all industry will suffer, and is of as much interest to the merchant and the manufacturer to restore the farm to prosperity as it is to the farmer. Each has his problems and exchange of ideas, mutual respect and understanding and recognition of the fact that interests are interlocked will go far toward finding a solution. To this end city and country should become better acquainted, deserve and give greater trust and confidence in one another and exchange information and ideas.

Next week the Rotary Club luncheon will be held in the new private dining room at the Governor Clinton.

Ensemble Sweater Strikes New Note

Two Sweaters, One Over Other, Favored by Motion-Picture Actress.

The sweater as a fashion item for summer has "conspicuously" returned This season it is not only smart for resort and country club wear, occasionally showing itself in town but it has become a practical outfit which is smart for traveling as well as for general day-time wear Particularly is this true of the new pure silk knitted sweater costume which comes in darker colors for town as well as in delightful pastel shades for the seashore.

The new note in the sweater family is the ensemble consisting of two sweaters, one of which is worn over the other. Generally, the sweater worn beneath is a colorfully striped slip on This, worn with a plain-colored mannish coat sweater the same shade as the skirt, makes a delightfully chic costume

To wear with the popular youthful pleated silk skirt, a slip-on sweater of finely woven wool such as Eleanor Boardman popular screen actress, is wearing, is smartly fashionable this season The finely turned student collar worn with a bright colored tie gives it an added youthful zest. Many of these sweaters are shown in horizontal stripes of striking colors, either in equal-sized stripes or wider and narrower combinations. Block effects in brilliant contrasting colors are particularly chic.

As to necks, one may choose from the popular student collar with its youthful becomingness, which Miss Boardman wears so charmingly, the smart Jenny neck which introduces a new note by having the neck bound with crepe de chine or the chic V neck, which looks so smart with the popular choker necklace

Uneven Hemline Found to Be Liked Feature

The uneven hemline distinguishes the majority of French garden party gowns that are made of any solid material. Scalloped edges have enjoyed such a long popularity that dressmakers have been forced to seek something new, and after doing clever things with little rectangular turrets, they have now produced a hemline with the scallops reversed, so that the points instead of the curves reach the lowest line

A Molyneux ensemble worn at a garden fete at the American embassy consisted of a straight black coat lined with black and white polka-dotted foulard. This latter also formed the simple gown that had a pretty one-sided bow effect in the arrangement of the cravate.

On Fashions

Designers Are As Usual Taking Great Liberties With the Waistline, the Tendency Being Up, Not Down, With the Usual Important Exceptions.

Drecoll has dared to get away from the straight back and has gone so far as to admit of a curving back-line. It is difficult, of course, to readjust oneself to this innovation, but it has been apprent for some time that women have seized every opportunity to emphasize the natural lines of the body The draped hip-line is another Drecoll innovation, although this movement is not exclusively with this house Draperies of various sorts keep occurring They are most frequent perhaps at the front of the dress, although by no means confined to this position.

Worth emphasizes the diagonal waist-line, and unbends from traditional dignity to join with others of the couture who make youth their fetish In spite of this greatly discussed elaboration of detail, the grande maisons have contrived to keep gowns youthful in effect, for failing in this their collections would be a total loss The bolero, represented in all collections and emphasized in some, is nothing if not youthful It has been developed into

There is really a general tendency toward shorter lines, for while some houses retain a low waistline, there are usually some trimming details suggestive of a more normal line. And belted effects and the bolero, to say nothing of the blouse line, seem to indicate a waning interest in an altogether straight, long line.

Patou has done interesting tailleurs with sweater tops, and O'Rossen, whose ideas on tailoring are widely copied, has seen fit to sponsor waistcoats which are very reminiscent of sweaters, at the same time accenting them by a contrast of material. O'Rossen has aroused interest by introducing some more formal tailleurs with definitely longer coats, but jackets generally remain short The success of the smoking Tuxedo suit has resulted in a type of tailleur which has a man's full-dress or claw-hammer coat as its basic idea.

Women Use

Then dispose of this new hygienic help easily as tissue—no laundry

WOMEN by the millions are discarding the old-time "sanitary pad" for a new and scientific way.

A way that offers protection unknown before. A way, too, that solves the old embarrassment of disposal.

It is called "KOTEX." Eight in 10 better-class women now employ it.

Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

It's five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads!

You dine, dance, motor for hours in sheerest frocks without a second's doubt or fear.

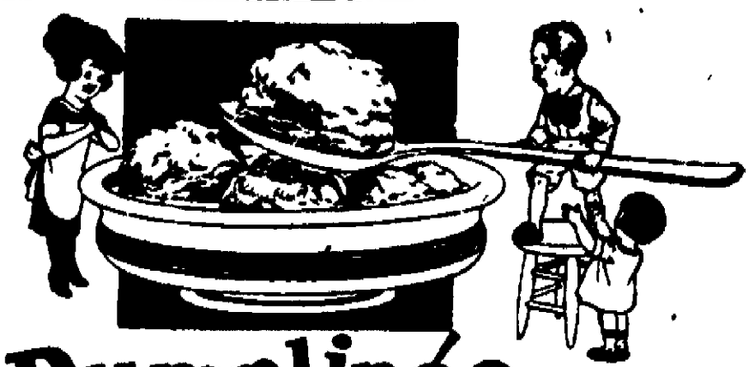
It deodorizes, too. And thus ends ALL danger of offending

You ask for it at any drug or department store, without hesitancy, simply by saying "KOTEX"

Do as millions are doing. End old, insecure ways. Enjoy life every day Package of twelve costs only a few cents

KOTEX

No laundry—discard like tissue



Dumplings, Lighter and Easier to make!

Jenny Wren makes the lightest, most tasty and digestible of dumplings! And if you ever found dumplings hard to make, let Jenny Wren solve the problem! Not only are dumplings easier to make with this wonder flour, but also pies, cakes, cookies, muffins, waffles, and a host of other good things. The "hard to mix" ingredients are already mixed in Jenny Wren; it insures success.

Jenny Wren is the most healthful white flour because the mineral element lacking in other white flours has been restored to Jenny Wren by an exclusive process.

ELEANOR GUNN

On Fashions

THE COAT IS, AFTER ALL, OF PARAMOUNT IMPORTANCE.

At the Left, Allied Shades of Broadcloth Are Employed in the Fashioning of a Compose Suit. Cork and Oakcrest, Both Golden Tones, are the Colors Chosen, and an Interesting Feature of the Model Is Two Neat Little Broadcloth Pockets Stitched to the Accompanying Silk Blouse.

In the Center, Glazelle, a Particularly Luxurious Coating, Is Used. Inserts of Black Velvet Add Further to the Rich Effect.

At the Right Is a Coat in the Belted Back Manner. Newcastle is the Fabric Used, in Fairway Shade.

There is certainly no doubt about the fall coat, to say nothing of the winter one, being the most important consideration of every woman—the garment on which she must spend the most time, therefore the one which warrants the greatest drain on her clothes budget.

There seems at first nothing sensational in the announcement that the ensemble idea now centers around the black coat that discloses a brilliant dress underneath. Some of the newer details are the greatly enlarged armhole, the longely-bloused silhouette, and wrappy dolman line. There are cape coats as well and, for those who prefer suits to coats, enough suit interest to satisfy the most exacting.

One of the greatest interests, if not the paramount one, has to do with the fur-lined coat. Given a soft suede finished woolen coat, black or in any of the wine-drenched shades that head the color list, and lining it with a novelty fur, one has taken a step in the right direction

Certain of the couture approve gray furs, irrespective of the hue of the garment, but be its color what one will, Paris highly approves novelty furs She is not insistent that there should be fur on the coat for early fall—for every woman now owns at least one fur coat, it would seem—but she is still partial to coats that are not so much trimmed with fur as partly fashioned of it.

For travel, by motor or any other means, there are loud plaids and equally smart but less conspicuous checks or stripes—for many of the coatings are in the novelty range, and many of them may be found in any smart men's wear shop

It is quite within the natural order of things to introduce two fabrics in the winter coat—contrasts being lauded at the moment The most important consideration is, after all, the silhouette Several are offered, but those which blouse to produce a bagginess about a lowered waist-line are deserving of first mention

BERRY & COMPANY ANNIVERSARY DINNER

Berry & Company, the investment bankers who are selling the first mortgage seven per cent gold bonds on the new theatre that is to be built in Kingston, are giving a dinner-dance on October 1, at the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie in celebration of their sixth anniversary.

Berry & Company have established the practice of holding an annual dinner ever since their original incorporation on October 1, 1920, to which all those who are connected with the company are invited. It is expected that there will be also some of the officials of the large New York banking houses present. It is estimated that about 100 will attend.

The company has had an exceptionally successful business career since it was organized in 1920 by Milton H. Berry as president when he resigned as special representative for the National City Company, which is a subsidiary of the National City Bank of New York and reputed to be the largest retail bond house in the world.

Starting with one office in the Poughkeepsie Trust Company Building with three people comprising the entire organization, they have enjoyed a gradual healthy growth. At the present time, the main office occupies the entire ground floor of the building located at No. 16 Cannon street in Poughkeepsie and a branch office occupying a suite of three rooms in the Merchants' National Bank Building, Middletown, N. Y., and another branch office at No. 276 Fair street, Kingston.

The Middletown office has been established for over four years, although originally it only occupied one room. The Kingston office has been established for little less than three years. A few months ago, the Kingston office was entirely refurnished and redecorated and it is reputed to be one of the most attractive offices in the city of Kingston.

While at the founding of the business, Mr. Berry handled practically all of the sales of the company, personally, they now have 14 salesmen covering six counties. The clerical staff numbers 10 people, and they enjoy a very fine reputation among the banks and private investors, generally. The officers and directors of the company are as follows: Milton H. Berry, president and treasurer; C. A. Adams, first vice president; U. L. MacBrair, second vice president; J. Donald Haggerty, third vice president; M. C. Cole, assistant treasurer; Frank J. Sagendorph, secretary; Frank J. Malone, assistant secretary.

Frank S. Hyatt is in charge of the local office and is largely responsible for the splendid volume of business that Berry & Company are doing in this city. According to the company's records for the year of 1925, Berry & Company distributed over $5,000,000 worth of bonds in the Hudson valley. Most of the bonds they offer are obtained through participating in syndicates with prominent bond houses such as J. P. Morgan & Co., Harris, Forbes & Company, National City Company, Dillon Read & Company, American Bond & Mortgage Company, Bankers' Trust Company, Bonbright & Company, and few others of less importance.

Missionary Work Of Lutherans

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 17.—From the thirty-two Synodical Societies of the United Lutheran Church in America delegates of the Women's Missionary Society will assemble in fourth biennial convention at Trinity Church in this city from September 25th to 30th.

From practically every state in the United States, every province of Canada, and at least four foreign countries, women will gather to compare results of the activities of the past two years in supporting anad maintaining Lutheran foreign mission work and to plan their work for the coming biennium.

On Saturday, September 25, a Workers' Conference for the delegates will precede the formal opening of the convention; Sunday morning, Convention Communion Service and Sunday afternoon, Light Brigade Rally; Sunday night, commissioning of new missionaries for the foreign field. Each of the week days following will be filled with business sessions, morning and afternoon, and addresses at the evening sessions. President F. H. Knubel of the United Lutheran Church will address the convention Monday night. At the same session Dr. George Drach, recently returned from a trip to the Orient, representing the Board of Foreign Missions in his official capacity as secretary, will deliver an address on "The Women of the Orient I Have Met."

The distinguished visitors at the convention will include the Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Voskamp from the United Lutheran Mission, Shantung, China, who with their son, Martin, have just arrived in the United States after 45 years' service in one mission field.

A notable feature of the gathering will be the attendance of young women from India, Japan, China and Africa. Missionaries on furlough under the jurisdiction of the Women's Missionery Society and the wives of foreign missionaries will contribute much to the interest.

A Young Women's Missionary Congress, the first of its kind, has been called to meet on Saturday, September 25th, in connection with convention. This Congress, which will be largely inspirational in tone, is expected to lay plans for the more effective education along missionary lines of the young women in the Lutheran churches throughout the land.

Great Bearings

New NASH Attractions

New instrument board with indirect lighting and all instruments in single panel under glass, including hydrostatic gas gauge.

New oil screen "siphonoil" which prevents oil congelation in coldest weather.

New crank-case "breather" eliminating crank-case dilution.

Rubber-insulated motor supports which deepen operative quietness (standard Nash practice for some time).

And an array of further superb new features.

(On all Advanced Six and Special Six models)

The Smoothest Miles are NASH Miles

All new Nash models now have the great superiority of a 7-bearing crankshaft motor.

It is an engineering fact that this is the ultra-modern motor—the world's smoothest type.

The 7 great bearings give the revolving crankshaft absolute rigidity and stiffness, thus achieving the final degree of power-smoothness and quietness.

Come view these new Nash models—16 different body styles—brilliant new body finishes—with prices ranging from $665 to $2090 f. o. b. factory. Now on display.

THOUGHT LAST MOMENT HAD COME

But Kellogg's ALL-BRAN conquered constipation, the cause of her trouble

Now she's healthier and happier than ever!

"I awoke with a most disagreeable sensation around my heart and, together with fear, thought my last moment had come. After that I began to be troubled greatly with indigestion. This I treated diligently with supposed cures, but never found anything that completely relieved me except ALL-BRAN"

EDITH M. MASON. (Address on request.)

Constipation is the hideous bugbear of health. It fastens its ravaging hold on young and old. Sallow complexion, pimples, headaches—are all symptoms! Cleanse your system of its poisons for good.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation permanently if eaten regularly. It is 100 per cent bran. That's why doctors recommend it!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. A ready-to-serve cereal, delicious with milk or fruit. Used in cooking too. Served everywhere. Sold by all grocers on a money-back guarantee.

He came up smiling—used to say
He made his fortune that a'way
He had hard luck a plenty, too,
And settled down and fought her through,
And every time he got a jolt,
He just took on a tighter holt,
Slipped back some when he tried to climb,
But came up smilin' every time.

A GOOD main dish for luncheon is:

Luncheon Eggs.

Wash and chop one-fourth of a pound of mushrooms, melt one tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan, add the mushrooms and stir until all the moisture has evaporated; add one tablespoonful of flour, blend well, then add one-half cupful of chicken stock, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, and a little pepper, let cook two minutes. Cut into halves six hard-cooked eggs, remove the yolks and mix them with the mushroom sauce. Fill the eggs with this mixture and set them into a baking dish, surround with tomato sauce and heat thoroughly. Just before serving place a fillet of sardine on each stuffed egg. Serve from the baking dish.

Sour Cream Salad Dressing.

Whip the cupful of sour cream, add one tablespoonful of sugar, a teaspoonful of lemon juice and a dash of cayenne. Serve on sliced onions, lettuce, cucumbers or any other vegetables. On cabbage it is especially good.

Supper Dish.

Spread dry bread with butter, sprinkle with finely cut or grated cheese (a rich cheese that will not become stringy when heated), put layers into a baking dish until enough has been prepared to supply the family, cover with the following custard: One egg to a cupful of milk, with a pinch of salt. See that enough egg and milk is used to well soak and cover the bread. Bake in a slow oven and serve at once when the custard is set.

Sardine Salad.

Skin and bone a dozen sardines, add a cupful of mashed hard-cooked egg yolks, two tablespoonfuls each of chopped olives and celery, a pinch of dry mustard, and lemon juice to moisten. Mix and form into balls, roll in boiled rice. Arrange around a mound of stuffed olives and serve garnished with roses of mayonnaise.

Here is a tamale recipe for those who enjoy them:

Chicken Tamale.

Boil a fowl until tender, salt and season with onion or garlic while cooking. Remove the meat from the bones and chop fine, add a bit of garlic and a generous quantity of cayenne pepper. Make a thick paste of corn meal, salt and boiling water. Form the meat into rolls the size of the finger and encase each in corn meal paste. Wrap each tamale in corn husk, tie with a strip of husk and drop into chicken stock to cook. Add two or three Mexican peppers and cook fifteen minutes.

Chicken Salad.

Mix one pint of diced chicken with one cupful of celery, a little chopped cabbage, a bit of onion and green pepper and add well seasoned mayonnaise. Serve on tender lettuce.

Apple with the chicken in place of cabbage makes a good change in the flavor of the salad.

Spanish Chicken Soup.

Heat three cupfuls of chicken soup stock and the same of veal. Add a grated onion, a finely minced carrot and two stalks of celery chopped fine. Add one cupful of barley and simmer until the barley is done. Season to taste and rub through a sieve before serving.

Last Fatality Unknown

The War department says it has never been determined who was the last American soldier killed, as men were being killed all along the line and it would be impossible to say just who was the last.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

IN THE MORNING

A COMMON difficulty with the majority of drowsy mortals when waking to a new day, is to face it with becoming gladness of soul and cheerfulness of speech.

Anybody it is supposed can find a delectable bit of joy in the blushing summer morn, when the dew is on the grass and the air is odorous with the delicious fragrance of night-born flowers.

But alas! how many of us, with habitually heavy eyelids and hearts unattuned to the beauties of the sky and the sod, can interpret the worshipful spirit of the earth and the sea, and lift our voice in adoration and praise, unless we are in love?

And this is what we ought to be—in love with God's wonderful handiwork all about us, the gleaming verdure, the rosy east, the crooning balmy winds and without wives and husbands, the chattering little children and their pursed up lips perpetually framing puzzling questions, eager to know and to understand the things surrounding them in a world in which they are not yet acquainted.

Whatever it may be with regard to others, let the humor of beneficent happiness take hold of you and fill your morning with brightness until it radiates its inspiring rays like the sun.

The joys of others caught from you will be to your soul like sweet music.

However shy it may be in the beginning, it will grow bolder with the strength of the night and fit you for the duties of your day.

In the morning of life are born resolutions which will take you a step nearer to the accomplishment of the great achievements of which you have been dreaming for years.

In the morning begin doing good to yourself by doing good to others, and this can best be done by being cheerful.

Start the day right if you would greet its closing with a smile, conscious of having done your best as you trudged along the weary way.

In the morning the birds fill the air with grateful songs; the hills and valleys wear their brightest colors and the heavens their softest hues, but man, the noblest creature on earth, frequently appears at his worst.

In the morning of his life he wastes his health and energy in loading his pocket with gold, and when the final night darkens his vision, he would gladly give all his wealth for a single grain of faith, such as was shown by the afflicted woman who touched the hem of our Master's garment that she might be healed!

School Footwear!

The kinds of School Footwear we are selling this Fall have a lot of stylish pep in them. Some for the young ladies have low broad heels on them, others are made with modest covered Cuban heels. Many new models are shown in our new assortments. Then again, as we carry several widths in each model we can and do fit them so that they give absolute comfort.

Our lines are made for us by manufacturers that have a great reputation for making good honest wearing footwear which insures you of the utmost of service.

Now for the young men, we have a dandy line of Snappy Oxfords in tans and black that will please the young fellows by their style and their parents by the service they give.

Don't let's forget the younger brothers and sisters of these High Schol Students either, for we are particularly well supplied with an assortment of stylish, good looking (not the old-time heavy stodgy footwear) perfect fitting footwear for these youngsters that will give an unusual amount of wear as well as comfort.

We ask the privilege of demonstrating our new lines of Footwear suitable for school purposes.

Paltz Battler Kayos Fisher

Charlie Fisher, who reigns supreme in Kingston's fistic circles, received a beating Thursday evening which would have sent the crown spinning from his head had it been meted out by a subject within his boxing domain. Charlie was sent to the mat in the fifth round of the main bout within the Fair Grounds arena, and being unable to come to the surface again was forced to take the K. O. count from Referee Eddie Cashin. A husky from New Paltz by the name of Gene Mack with a fatal port-side punch did the deed after the fifth round had been underway but fifteen or twenty seconds.

But it didn't all happen within a few seconds. Charlie made the acquaintance of the mat repeatedly during the scrap. He went down twice during the first round and one time at least in the third and fourth rounds. In the fourth session the bell saved Fisher from an early defeat.

Hart Drops Peck.

In the runner-up affair of the evening, Vince Hart, the ruler of East Kingston mittmen, strengthened his title as he made Irv Peck of Newburgh take the fatal count. Peck's enjoyment ended at the start of the fifth when Hart cut loose and soon had the Hilly City fighter sprawling. Up until the fifth the pair were breaking even but during the start of the fifth Vince was plainly leading. Peck was sent sprawling and [illegible] he was in a leaning position with his mitts touching the floor he was counted out.

Carpino and Werner.

In a six round fight Joe Carpino drove his powerful mitts at Joe Werner in a manner that was tiring. Werner did little to even up the score except in the fifth round, when he landed a number of healthy blows. But they didn't give him the better of the affair.

"Frenchy" De Wigg put up an interesting scrap with Joe Brown of Newburgh. "Frenchy" landed a pile of killing blows at his opponent but he couldn't knock him out. Brown was punished a great deal but he still hung on stubbornly and received the plaudits of the fans because of his pluck.

Billy Litts of New Paltz did not have a difficult time with Joe Costallo of Port Ewen. Joe took a count of nine in the opening session and had a hard time during the remainder of the battle.

James Henry, who was one of the winners at the battle royal in the previous smoker again won in the royal exhibition.

French Tennis Stars Win Again

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—The six year reign of William T. Tilden as tennis champion of America is at an end. Along with him have gone the title hopes of that other famous veteran, "Little Bill" Johnson, and today finds a new era dawning in the spectacular net game.

The forces of France are in the front rank of the new world dynasty, along with the youngest of America's aces, Vincent Richards, who alone survived the Yankee debacle yesterday when three of this country's big four went down before the wearers of the tri-color. The sanity of any tennis observer who predicted a week ago that the famous two "Bills" would fall in one afternoon of championship play would have been made the subject of an immediate investigation.

Yet that is exactly what transpired yesterday before an amazed crowd of 10,000 in the quarter finals of the national men's singles championships.

First Tilden, the master of all he has surveyed since 1920, bowed to the tennis magic of a 24-year-old French youth, Henri Cochet, who was not considered strong enough to play for his country in the Davis Cup singles. Then Johnston, his scant store of stamina exhausted at last, fell before the smashing uphill fight of Jean Borotra. Sandwiched in between was the defeat of Richard N. Williams, the American Davis Cup captain, by Rene Lacoste in straight sets.

In sweeping aside the fourth French contender, Jacques Brugnon, with the loss of only five games in three sets, Richards flashed an attack of unusual brilliance. He faced stronger opposition today, however, meeting Borotra in one semi-final while Lacoste and Cochet battled in the other.

WHAT HAPPENED IN THE ROPED ARENA LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press.)

Paterson, N. J.—Al Stone, Paterson, scored a technical knockout over Joe McEwen, Baltimore, five rounds.

Memphis, Tenn.—Tiger Flowers, Atlanta Negro, middleweight champion, knocked out Happy Hunter, Memphis Negro, three rounds.

Stockton, Cal.—Jake Kilrane, Chicago Negro, knocked out Joe Hughes, San Francisco, one round.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press.)

St. Louis was once again battling away on an equal footing with Cincinnati today while uncertainty clouded the outcome of the 1926 National League championship. In fact, if the clubs keep abreast of each other in the next eight games, granting their positions remain unchallenged, the pennant will be decided at Cincinnati on September 26, where the Reds are tabled to meet the Cardinals in the final of the season.

The Cards crowded into a first place tie at the expense of the Phillies yesterday, swamping the Quakers twice by scores of 23 to 2 and 10 to 2. The Hornsby hirelings manufactured 22 hits in the opener against five opposing pitchers and 19 in the closing struggle off two twirlers.

Umpire Clem banished Jim Wilson from the second game after a decision was disputed and then ordered Manager Art Fletcher off the field when the latter went to a coaching line. Soon afterward a placard labelled "Catfish Klem" was suspended from the window of the clubhouse and broke up the monotony of a one-sided afternoon for the fans, who took pleasure in the discomfiture of the official. The sign was ordered removed and for a time it looked as though the Phillies would be obliged to forfeit the game.

The Reds displayed all the earmarks of a championship ball club in blanking the Giants, 3 to 0, and it was their eighth victory in a row. Pete Donohue mastered the New Yorkers, allowing only four hits. Not a Giant was able to reach second base.

The Robins shed their losing ways and jolted Pittsburgh 2 to 1, pushing the Pirates further from the coveted pinacle. Pittsburgh now trails the leaders by four and one-half contests.

The Braves nursed their latest winning streak to five by cornering the Cubs, 4 to 1. Charlie Root was bested in a pitching fracas with R. Smith, yielding six hits, one more than Smith.

Two games were lopped off the Yankees' lead in the American League parade when the New Yorkers were forced to give way in a twin bill with the Indians. Four and one-half games now separate the clubs and while there is no chance for the tribe to catch up with the Hugmen before the present series is concluded, Cleveland rooters took comfort in the fact that the Yankees cannot clinch the bunting during their stay in the Ohio city.

Should the Indians win all of their ten remaining games, New York needs seven victories out of 11 starts to capture the premier honors.

Pitchers Levsen and Buckeye stood out as the heroes for Cleveland. Levsen beat the Yankees 2 to 1 in the first game allowing but two hits, while Buckeye vanquished the leaders in the nightcap by 5 to 0, duplicating Levsen's feat of granting but two safeties.

The Senators whacked out a double victory at Detroit, 3 to 2 and 5 to 4. The opener went up to the seventh without a score when Stoner weakened and Washington registered all of its runs. The Senators came from behind in the eighth with a three run rally to win the closing laurels.

The Athletics' hold on third place became threatened when they divided a double program with the Browns, losing the first game 1 to 0, and winning the second by 5 to 1.

Although Chicago was outhit by the Red Sox, 10 to 8, Blankenship braced in the pinches and the White Hose nosed out in front by 6 to 4.

Mystics Play at Gardiner Sunday.

Manager McNally and his Mystic Baseball Club of East Kingston will travel to Gardiner on Sunday afternoon to meet the fast team representing that place. The Gardiner team this season is composed of such players as Clinton, Upright, Wells, Lyons and other well-known players. The games between Gardiner and Mystics have always drawn big crowds, and according to Manager Everts of Gardiner the largest crowd of the season will be on hand. Gardiner has won 13 straight games and are confident of adding the Mystics to their string. Eckert and Upright will probably form the battery for Gardiner. The battery for the Mystics will not be known until the team takes the field. The game will start at 2:30, standard time.

"Lost Flower" Found

A species of flower which was discovered about the year 1730 and then lost for 175 years has been independently rediscovered by two scientists, Dr. E. T. Wherry of the United States bureau of chemistry and Dr. J. K. [illegible] of the United States museum. This rare flower is known as the pink turtlehead. It was found near Marlboro, Md.

The pink turtlehead grows in wet ground, reaches a height of about three feet and has pink flowers resembling the neck of a turtle.

Racing Trophies Stored

Horse-racing trophies that have been won in England this season have been sent to augment the wealth of gold and silver plate won on the turf that is stored away in the vaults of safe deposits and leading London jewelers. Families who have had winning owners for generations own so many cups that they refuse the responsibility or anxiety of having them in their own homes. In London vaults there are several collections numbering more than 100 pieces.

Soccer Squad At West Point

West Point, Sept. 17.—The West Point soccer team again coached by Ray Marchland of Kingston, Ontario, Canada, has been practicing since September 1. Forty men are on the squad, of which number about nine played more or less regularly last year. The team last year had a very successful season, winning six, tying one and losing one. Of the regulars left, Captain Glasgow, at halfback, Garland, who is manager, at right outside forward, Lewis at right inside forward, and Browning at left outside forward, seem to stand out as the best prospects for this year. Practically most of the back field were lost by graduation last year, and two men from the forward line. Among the men lost were Baird, Bayer, Heidner, Kammerer, McNaughton, Martin and Ruesma, regulars on the team last year. While there is a lack of promising back field men, there seems to be plenty of candidates for the forward positions, and Coach Marchland is looking forward to a successful season.

The schedule is a hard one, consisting of seven games, starting with the Western Maryland College on October 6. All games will be played here at West Point, and will all occur on Wednesday, starting at 3:45 p. m.

Lieutenant W. B. Palmer is officer in charge of the soccer team.

Among other men who will be left from last year's squad, and who will in all likelihood make the team this year are: Tate, at right outside forward, Wiley, left halfback, and Briggs at right full back. Among other men who seem to have a good chance are Butchers, Kelly, Sherburne and Sladen.

The complete schedule is as follows:

October 6—Western Maryland College.
October 13—Lafayette College.
October 20—McGill University.
October 27—Lehigh University.
Nov. 3—Syracuse University.
Nov. 10—Mass. Inst. of Technology.

Here's How Dempsey and Tunney Stack Up

The artist has combined photographs of Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney to show how they will appear when they meet in the ring in Philadelphia.

In the Tunney Training Camp

Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 17 (AP)—Gene Tunney's workout this afternoon was awaited with more interest perhaps than any single period of his training season. All who have watched him closely in his preparations for his championship bout with Jack Dempsey next Thursday night were anxious to see if he has recovered the form misplaced for the time being yesterday. Enough of the experts at the ringside yesterday expected out loud to reveal that it was the consensus of opinion that the challenger's condition was not on quite straight.

A difference of opinion developed in discussion at Stroudsburg as to the possible returns for the off day if such it was. One school of boxing took the position that Tunney has become a bit stale and needs a rest from his work. That this opinion is not held by the contender and his associates is evidenced by the fact that the "boxing today" sign was hanging out at the camp.

Another view was that the placid demeanor of the bookish boxer has been penetrated as the day of his big chance and its attendant test approaches. Worry was blamed in some quarters.

Osk Till, the clever Rochester middleweight, left for home today to prepare for a bout with Benny Ross of Buffalo at Jamestown, N. Y., September 27. The departure of the speedy Till leaves the camp personnel made up entirely of heavyweights and light heavies.

Bobby Jones Defeated Evans

Short Hills, N. J., Sept. 17 (AP)—Bobby Jones and his famous golf clubs today were near the home stretch of their record-making sweep over the links of two continents.

From a throne which withstood a threatening assault yesterday at the hands of the Chicago veteran, Chick Evans, the young and [illegible] Atlantan looked over to find one [illegible] more challengers in the path to his third national crown. [illegible] of them, Francis Ouimet of Boston, faced him at Baltusrol today. The others, George Von Elm of Los Angeles and George Dawson of Chicago, were matched in a semi-final duel which will bring the [illegible] through to the closing round tomorrow.

For the second time in consecutive days the British and American open champion was called upon yesterday to bring off an [illegible] only the Georgia star [illegible] beat the titleholder of ten years ago by three and two. Dempsey Is Loafing Today

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 17 (AP)—Jack Dempsey was loafing today, enjoying his sixth one-day vacation since he established his training camp here three weeks ago.

Tomorrow he will snap into the final three days of training with indications that he will wind up his campaign Monday afternoon in perfect condition to defend his title against Gene Tunney in Philadelphia next Thursday night.

Dempsey, as well as his handlers, is highly satisfied with the results of his five weeks' training grind here, and at Saratoga Springs.

"I have been in shape for a ten-round fight for the last week," Dempsey said today. "Remember, I have been in training for six months, off and on, doing work at Hendersonville and at Colorado Springs. I feel great right now. All I need is a couple days of fast work to put me on edge. Then I'll be ready. I intend to do my last serious training Monday afternoon and only work very lightly Tuesday and Wednesday."

Dempsey, in his workout yesterday, looked and acted like a fighter in shape. He boxed on his toes through five swift rounds driving a vicious fire to the bodies and heads of his three sparring mates. He always set the pace, boring in with head lowered and grunting or growling every time he cut loose with a punch. Tommy Loughran, the Philadelphia light heavyweight, carried Dempsey along at a terrific pace for two rounds, indulging in several spirited exchanges with the champion in which they both landed hard and often.

Measurements of Dempsey-Tunney

Philadelphia, Sept. 17 (AP)—Physical measurements of Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney, taken shortly before they completed their training for the championship battle here, reveal how closely the titleholder and his challenger are matched.

The figures show that Dempsey had a six-pound advantage while at the height of the conditioning workouts, but this difference is likely to be narrowed by the time they step into the ring. Tunney has a half-inch advantage in height and Dempsey the same margin in reach.

The statistics follow:

Madman Kills Two and Self

Deranged by Alcoholic Poisoning Man Kills Boarder and Son, Wounds Daughter and Then Commits Suicide.

Lockport, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP).—Believed to have been temporarily deranged by alcoholic poisoning, Pasquale Bartolomew, 56 years old, last night shot and killed two persons, wounded his daughter and committed suicide in his room when police attempted to arrest him.

Ralph Taste, 38, a boarder, was instantly killed by a shot through the head. Anthony Bartolomew, 18, son of Pasquale, died at the Lockport City Hospital shortly after midnight of an abdominal wound and the father died on the operating table. He had blown the side of his head off with a high calibre rifle.

Louise Partolomew, 15, is at the city hospital wounded in the right arm.

According to members of the family the shooting came without warning. The madman who, police say, had been drinking went to his room and seized his rifle, strode to the front porch and shot the boarder twice through the head. Then he entered the house occupied by his wife and eleven children and shot his son and wounded his daughter.

Police found Bartolomew barricaded in his room. He threatened to shoot the officers if they attempted to enter and when a stone was hurled through the window, a muffled explosion followed. He was found lying on the floor of his room dying, having discharged the rifle into his mouth

2 Marines Killed In Auto Mishap

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP).—Two marines were dead and three others were injured today as the result of an automobile collision near the marine base at Quantico, Va.

Those killed were Privates William Jones Orman, Worcester, Mass., and Wilbur Albert Duchman, Patterson, N. Y. The injured are Privates Wallace Axford, Hubbell, Mich., and L. A. Scott of Metropolis, Ill., and Marine Gunner Charles E. Burton.

The four privates were grouped about an automobile parked on the road when an automobile driven by Burton struck their machine.

LOWERS HIS RECORD FOR SWIMMING HUDSON.

Paul R. Schwark swam the Hudson river Thursday evening for the second time this season in twenty-eight and one half minutes. Previous to this swim he crossed the river in twenty-nine minutes but on that occasion he was handicapped by a strong wind and rough water. On Thursday when he swam the Hudson the conditions were very favorable, not even a ripple on the water being evident. He was accompanied by Leo Hines and two guide boats in which were Messrs. Murphy, Higgins and John Tourist, the latter acting as coach and a time keeper.

Clambake at East Kingston.

A clambake will be served at the home of Mrs. C. L. Saunders, East Kingston, on Tuesday, September 21. The patrons will be served from 5 p. m. until all are served. The proceeds of the bake will be for the East Kingston M. E. Church.

Air Mail Pilot Forced to Land

Chicago, Sept. 17 (AP).—A fuel supply exhausted by hours of flying above a fog that last night conquered three other pilots forced Charles A. Lindbergh to abandon his St. Louis-Chicago air mail plane nearly a mile from Wedron, Illinois, and drop by parachute.

Within an hour he had groped across the country to where the wrecked plane lay two miles away, dug out the three pouches of mail and arranged their journey for the remaining sixty miles to their Chicago destination.

Lindbergh left his ship after cruising for more than two hours above the Chicago air mail terminal from which powerful searchlights sought to pierce the fog. The drone of the motor was heard plainly by officials concerned over his delayed arrival.

Lindbergh dropped through the fog blanket, which he estimated at 2,000 feet in thickness, and landed without mishap. But during the early part of his decent he was in constant danger from the falling ship Wheeling about the pilot, the wings occasionally came within a few hundred feet of his body.

LAST NIGHT on THE RADIO

Clear reception, with the west weak and the south strong seemed to prevail last night.

WSB, WRC and WCOA were heard from the south, WHAS from the southwest and WLW, WKRC and WOK from the west.

Beyond Schenectady the north was dead.

John Corigliano, talented Brooklyn violinist, will be a guest artist with Allen McQuhae, tenor, in the Atwater Kent radio concert, September 19, in what is next to the last of a series of summer concerts under Mr. Kent's auspices. The big fall and winter concerts begin October 3. Mr. Corigliano made his debut three years ago, in New York city, and has since toured the country in concert. In his Sunday night performance, which follows his first concert of the season at Aeolian Hall, Mr. Corigliano will play The Symphonie Espagnole. "Andante"; "Hymn to the Sun," from "Le Cop d'Or," and "La Gitana," with piano accompaniment.

St. Mark's Church to Hold Tag Day.

St. Mark's Church, Foxhall avenue, will hold a tag day on Saturday, September 25. The congregation is organizing for the event and every solicitor will wear a pink badge and carry a contribution box which will contain the name of the person soliciting and his number. The public is being asked to donate to help clear the debt that the church is in and to pay for repairs which are to be made to the building. Persons contributing will be given a tag so that they will not be approached the second time.

Rummage Sale Starts Monday.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church will hold a rummage sale at No. 587 Broadway, commencing Monday, September 20, for the entire week. If anyone has articles that they desire to donate for this sale, will they kindly call Mrs. H. W. Smith, 739 Broadway, 'phone 2282-M, or Mrs. J. J. Linson, 173 Elmendorf street, 'phone 1837-W, and the same will be called for, or they may be left at the address where the sale is to be held.

K. of C. Club At Port Jervis

The Kingston Knights of Columbus Ball Club, with victories over Oneonta and Hudson to their credit, will journey to Port Jervis Sunday to meet the nine representing that place.

At the present time, Port Jervis boasts of having the best club they have had in the last few years, but the Knights with "Jim" Volker to do the mound work are not the least bit worried.

Volker has been pitching fine ball for the Casey team, having the honor of shutting out the Oneonta team Labor Day by the score of 8 to 0. The Knights' team is the only club in this section to register such a win over the up-state crew.

The rest of the K of C. line-up will be the same that has taken the field before.

Newburgh Calls Off Grid Game

Manager Edward Redhead of the Yellow Jackets has received word at the eleventh hour that the scheduled opening game with Newburgh in that city must be postponed. The Hilly City representatives in the Hudson Valley Pro Football League are unable to secure the field, upon which they had intended to stage the contest. Although this is quite a disappointment to the local gridders it will give them an opportunity to become better prepared for the opening game. Consequently the first game will be played with Beacon in that city on Sunday, September 26.

The postponed game with Newburgh will no doubt be played on October 10 at Newburgh. This team is also booked to play here on November 28.

A practice will be held this evening at the Athletic Field at 6:30. Practice Thursday night was very successful under the supervision of Coach Olsen.

Edwards Heads K. H. S. Eleven

Russell Edwards, a member of last season's K. H. S. football team, was elected captain of this year's Maroon and White eleven at a meeting of the forty football candidates early in the week. Although Edwards did not receive his letter last season he took part in many of the leading encounters and will be a capable man to lead the squad.

Captain Edwards played in most of the big games but did not take part quite enough quarters to be awarded a "K" at the close of the season. Ernest Smith was elected captain for this season but is ineligible for the team owing to his scholastic standing necessitating the selection of another man. After many hard workouts the squad will have its first scrimmage this afternoon at the Athletic Field.

City Hospital Student Nurses

The fall class of student nurses began their studies in the Nurses' Training Class at the Kingston City Hospital on Wednesday, when eleven enrolled. The members of the student class are: Carrie M. Brooks, Ruth L. Shultis, Ila M. Haulenbeek, Gladys Castor, Jessie I. Gill, Angela DuBois, Irene A. Legg, Angioline La Rose, Christobel O'Reilly, Louise Auringer and Dorothy E. Muller.

Goes to Beauty Shop.

R. A. Bernard Obenaus, who for some time has been connected with the Stuyvesant Barber Shop on Fair street, has gone to the Marinello Beauty Shop in The Governor Clinton Hotel, where he will specialize in ladies' and children's hair cutting.

Mrs. Knapp Will Speak.

Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, secretary of state, will be one of the speakers at the annual meeting of the Greene County League of Women Voters to be held at Coxsackie on Wednesday afternoon, September 22.

Dance at White Eagle.

Two orchestras will play for the continuous dance at the White Eagle Hall Saturday night. The hall is now under new management and opened up last Saturday to a large assemblage.

Dance at White Eagle.

The regular Saturday night dance will be held at the White Eagle Hall, Delaware avenue on September 18. A good time is promised to all who attend.

Colonial Gown Shop.

The Colonial Gown Shop in The Governor Clinton Hotel will open Saturday. The public is cordially invited.

Rights of Indigents

The Post Office department says that the sealed mail of persons living in a county home is as fully protected from unlawful opening as the mail of any other citizen. The mere fact that the inmates are so unfortunate as to have been compelled to seek shelter in an institution maintained for the indigent gives the superintendent no license to interfere with their letters.

Forest Hills, N. Y.—Hunters of sport titles who have been timid hitherto in the current shooting season are getting optimistic, now that King Tilden has been dethroned. After Emperor Jones does his stuff, their majesties Hagen and Dempsey will have some busy moments keeping their crowns on their heads, and then Queen Glenna will face a lot of confident and able bobs.

Short Hills, N. J.—Maureen Ocutt who thinks a tennis crown would fit her blonde thatch very nicely, has been getting a few pointers at the men's national amateur golf tournament in preparation for the women's.

New York—Some stars know when to quit. Al Jolson, who is being sued by David Wark Griffith for failure to make two movies, first thought he'd give Charlie Chaplin a run for his money, then decided he would be a flop and might be lynched, so he made no pictures.

Montreal—Some $3,500,000 was paid the provisional government for liquor during the last fiscal year, much of it American money; in addition there was revenue of $1,839,394 from licenses.

Moscow—There's been a great crime wave since the government permitted the sale of 40 per cent vodka.

News of the Day In Wall Street

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—Stockholders of Southern California Gas Company will vote November 18 on a proposed increase in capital stock from $10,000,000 to $100,000,000 and reduce the par value from $100 to $25 a share. It will be divided into $60,000,000 preferred and $40,000,000 common stock. A proposal to increase the fund debt to $75,000,000 also will be submitted.

American Locomotive Company is arranging further tests of an international combustion engine perfected by Fuel Oil Motors Corporation, designed to consume the cheapest grade of crude oil which is said to cost as low as five cents a gallon.

Man Changes Little After Age of Fifty

The man of fifty is a completed work of art. The man of thirty, even the man of forty, still manifests signs of indecision and incompleteness. They may develop into demons or demigods, into swineherds or supermen, into sinners or saints.

As the man is at fifty he will probably remain to the end of this terrestrial phase, to say the least. His features are sharply cut and chiseled and polished as if by a sculptor's tools.

Every light-hearted deed he has done, every careless word he has uttered, even the secret thoughts that have crept through his memory or imagination—these are some of the sculptor's most delicate tools which have played their part in making his face what it is today.

His characteristic tricks of manner are as unalterable as the shape of his skull. Those who know him intimately can predict almost with precision when he will wave his hand or shake his head or lift his eyebrows, when he will smile and when he will scowl.

The peculiarities of his speech and the general tenor of his conversation are quite invariable from day to day.

A thousand factors in his early environment and education have determined the timbre of his voice and the emotional reactions which control his words and gestures. After the age of fifty such infallible indices of character as the eyes, hands and voice rarely change. This is because at fifty the character is substantially fixed. It is indeed extremely difficult to prove that the man of fifty possesses free will. He will almost inevitably respond to a given combination of stimuli in precisely the same way. —American Church Monthly.

Safe Glass Comfort

French scientists have been investigating to learn if women can stand more cold than men. The man bundles up in cold weather, but of recent years the woman has "unbundled." Sheer hose, light clothes, low shoes, low necks and all of the other fineries have caused many doleful prophecies by the men.

Now comes the Frenchmen who says that the fibers of their muscles are finer and thus cover the nerves better. The blood vessels are larger and their heart pumps better, thus distributing the blood better. He gives another reason which is passed on to him. He says that their bodies are covered with a layer of fat, sometimes very thin, it is true, and this helps them to resist the cold.

Whatever the scientist may say, he has overlooked the fact that a woman is only comfortable when she is in style. Did nature consider this when woman was developed, or has woman outlived it as the apes passed and reborn advantage of the kind Mother Nature?—Anderson Herald.

GIVE ATTENTION TO LUBRICATION

Good Way to Avoid Expensive Repair Bills.

Due to the fact that motorists use their cars for longer trips in the summer time than in any other period of the year, oil dealers sound a warning that careful attention to lubrication requirements is essential if costly repair bills are to be avoided. Just because the car runs all right some motorists feel that it does not need attention.

Draining and Refilling.

If they could but see what is going on inside their gear cases when the transmission and differential are not properly cared for, say the oil men, they would soon realize that periodic draining and refilling of these vital spots is mighty important. The only warning given is when the car howls, but when a car howls it is too late for lubrication, the damage has been done.

Robert Worthington, president of a big company, in discussing this matter, said: "It took quite a period of time to impress motorists with the necessity of draining and refilling the crankcase at regular intervals. One of the examples used was to point out that four quarts of dirty oil plus one quart of fresh, clean oil always results in five quarts of dirty oil. This was an easy way to illustrate the importance of a complete change of oil.

No Pressure Gauge.

"The matter of transmission, differential and chassis lubrication, while just as important, is not as easy to illustrate, due to the fact that there is no pressure gauge at these points. The mere fact that many car manufacturers are building in lubrication systems for the chassis that can be operated by the simple pressure on a plunger should awaken motorists to the point where all lubrication requirements would be properly observed."

Important for Car Owner to Remember Tag Number

Some motorists experience considerable delay in receiving emergency service and cause a great deal of annoyance to repair men by failing to remember their tag numbers. Service stations report that they are prevented frequently from responding immediately to distress calls because car owners are unable to give the numbers when they summon the repair man. Repair men say they often go to the scene of the trouble, but are unable to identify the car they have been called to rescue because they have been given the wrong number or the owner does not know the number at all. Knowing the tag numbers also is a protection against theft.

Obey Traffic Signs

All traffic signs, including those used for the control of traffic at intersections should be obeyed promptly and to the letter. "Slow down" signs near schools should be observed as well as "Stop, Look and Listen" signs at railroad crossings.

Road Commandments

1. Thou shalt learn to recognize railroad crossings and approach them with extreme care.
2. Thou shalt look both ways and listen for trains.
3. Thou shalt be doubly alert if there are two or more tracks.
4. Thou shalt always use good judgment at railroad crossings that thy days may be long upon the land and the enjoyment of thy car continuous.
5. Thou shalt not kill the passengers within thy care.
6. Thou shalt keep thy brakes girded with effective brake lining.
7. Thou shalt not depend upon the driver of the car ahead.
8. Thou shalt when in doubt, take the safe course always.
9. Thou shalt cross crossings cautiously.
10. Thou shalt keep thy car under control, so that it can always be stopped in the clear space ahead.—Wyoming Roads.

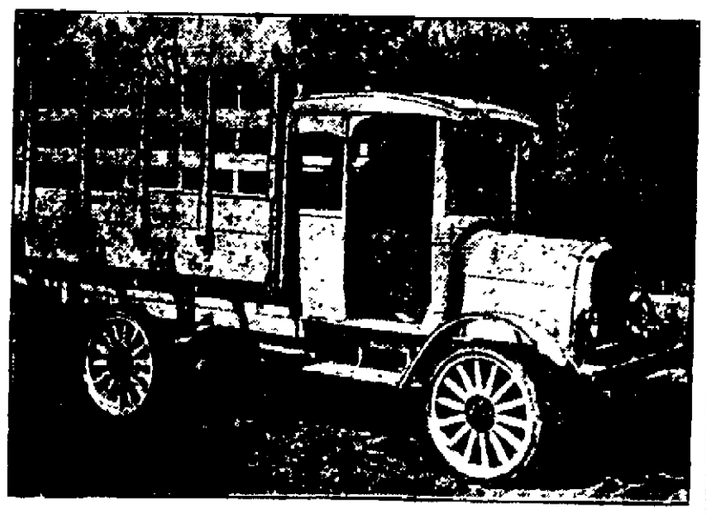
New York Supreme Court Rules Toy Cars Immune

Franklin Russell, sixteen years of age, of Beacon, N. Y., arrested for operating a toy automobile which the state alleged he should have registered and marked with license plates, had his laugh when Supreme Court Justice A. S. Tompkins held that the legislature did not order licenses for the toy cars of children. The miniature car has a wheel base of five feet and is twenty inches wide. At the back is attached a one-horsepower, gas-driven motor wheel by which the little car is propelled. It will accommodate two children.

IMPACTS OF TRUCK TIRES ARE TESTED



Trucks Have Proved Their Value in Transporting Freight.

Deductions drawn from data obtained in a series of tests of motor truck tire impacts on road surfaces, extending over two years and carried out in co-operation with the Society of Automotive Engineers, are given in a paper prepared recently by J. A. Buchanan, of the United States bureau of public roads.

These conclusions, as set forth in Mr. Buchanan's paper, are that the impact reactions, or force of the blow, increase as the weight supported by the tire is increased, but that the ratio of the reaction to the weight becomes less as the weight is increased; that the narrower the tread rubber of solid tires is, the less is the impact reaction, and that increasing the height of the tread rubber has a marked effect in reducing the impact reaction in both single and dual tire mounting; that dual tires cause greater impact forces than single tires of corresponding load capacity; that breaks in continuity of the tread surface cause heavy repeated road impacts, and that dual tires should be mounted with the tread design staggered.

Vertical Reactions Measured.

In the tests the vertical reactions from road obstructions were measured by a specially constructed instrument called an accelerometer mounted on the truck and designed to measure the force and speed of upward thrusts and at the same time to measure the proportional deflection of the truck spring adjacent to the wheel.

The results show that pneumatic tires may make a rough road seem reasonably smooth and solid tires in poor condition may make a smooth road seem unreasonably rough. A few tests indicated that no great difference in effect was produced by varying the unsprung weight, that is, the weight of wheel, tire and axle below the vehicle spring supporting the frame and its load.

Eliminate Much Roughness.

From a scientific viewpoint, the combination of a low-pressure balloon tire or an underinflated high-pressure pneumatic tire, a relatively heavy unsprung weight and a comparatively flexible truck spring might eliminate all but the severest road roughnesses.

A change in mounting dual tires having a new dump wheel design, so that the depressions in the two tire treads were staggered instead of being opposite each other, resulted in reducing the impact reaction from 3,600 pounds to 1,200 pounds at each repetition of the tread design on a smooth concrete road. The greatest impact reactions occurred with single trucks at speeds between 12 and 15 miles an hour. The impact force with pneumatic tires had a duration of 1-1,000 of a second, and with a worn solid tire of about 2-100 of a second.

Cristman Tells Why He Should Be Senator

bottles as you wanted until your car at the curb was full or your pocketbook empty.

Herkimer Would Have Dispensaries.

Government dispensaries regulated by government agents would mean in his home town of Herkimer, where 42 saloons had previously been, 42 dispensaries and 42 government agents under salary of the government, and then "we would all be in the whiskey business."

He asked the audience if they wanted to enter the whiskey business next fall and stated that he believed that by favoring the prohibition act he was more of an Republican than Senator Wadsworth and was more in step with the party and following the ideals of the party.

The prosperity of the country was due to prohibition, he said. Money formerly spent for drink was now spent for health and happiness and homes.

What Wadsworth Might Do.

If elected this fall, he stated that Senator Wadsworth would probably consider himself the leader and go out for the "next National nomination."

The whiskey people think that if they can win over New York state and Pennsylvania and a few of the other big states they can go in Congress and ask the repeal of the 18th Amendment.

In closing he pledged his support to the Constitution without reserve if elected.

Australian Attacks "Rum Row."

Gifford Gordon was next presented and spoke along the lines of his afternoon address. He attacked the attitude of the American people toward "Rum Row" which, he said, has for five years been a menace to the country, one which we had taken little thought of. Had a battleship stood at the 12-mile limit and pointed its guns toward America we would not have tolerated it but the rum menace was allowed to continue until the government took a hand and now "rum row" is but a ghost of its former self. There had been no united Christian effort made to stop the menace for five years and he was puzzled to know why.

Blames Business Men.

Judges and juries fail to prosecute violators of the prohibition law. Business men are too busy to sit on the juries and we criticize the verdicts of those who do serve. One of the reasons for failure of General Butler in Philadelphia was the fact that business men failed to support him in this way after they had been responsible for his appointment. Loyalty means more than shouting and flag waving, it means action.

The speaker said mayors, police and sheriffs often protect the bootlegger.

Blames Press for Telling Truth.

"Think of the attitude of the metropolitan press of America. We know the power of the press for evil as well as good. They have assailed prohibition, though they haven't given it a chance. They say it is a failure and people believe the press. If the press had been big enough, he said, it would have admitted defeat or if they had not desired to do that they might at least have kept still and given prohibition a chance. If the press could not say anything for prohibition, he said, nothing should have been said against it.

Dare Dry Editors Don't Lie.

At this point he read a poem which had previously been read at the afternoon session which in effect was that editors were prone to lie. However, he kindly excluded any dry editors who happened to be in the audience and stated that the statement was only intended to include the wet editors. Dry editors did not lie.

Defends Anderson.

He assailed those who have discriminated giving aid toward the support of the Anti-Saloon League because of the Anderson affair and stated that he did not believe that William H. Anderson was 100 per cent wrong. Even though he was, it was no reason for discontinuing the support, just because one man in an organization went wrong.

Before prohibition from 90 to 92 per cent of the business was beer. Since this was consumed mostly in the workingman's home it depleted his earnings. Now with prohibition the workingman is saving money, building homes and caring for his family. He referred to the building statistics for the past few years.

No country is doing its utmost to pay its debt to this or any other country when it is spending money on liquor and gambling, said Mr. Gordon. "Three years of England's drink bill would pay the United States debt which we have given her 62 years to pay," continued Mr. Gordon.

Prohibition Reduces T. B.

He cited improvement in American health since 1920 as given by health statistics and stated that it was due to prohibition. Tuberculosis had been greatly reduced and this was due to prohibition to a great extent.

The only solution, he said, was not repeal or modification but a strict enforcement of the present law and the support by everyone of the Constitution.

The musical program was brought to a close with a song by the ladies' quartet composed of Mrs. Naley, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Wicks and Mrs. Depo and a tenor solo by Mr. Wicks of New Paltz.

Spring Institute at Ulster Park.

An invitation of the Ulster Park local for the spring institute to be held there was accepted by a rising vote of thanks of the delegates.

The session was brought to a close with the singing of "God Be With You," followed by prayer.

Of Ancient Lineage

The Biscayans are a remarkable race of people, dwelling partly in the southwest corner of France, but mostly in the north of Spain, adjacent to the Pyrenees. They are probably descendants of the ancient Iberi, who occupied Spain before the Celts. They preserve their ancient language, former manners and national dances, and make admirable soldiers, especially for guerilla warfare.

Wheat Oldest Food

Wheat no longer occurs in a wild state and its origin remains obscure, although it is known to have been an important food crop in ancient Egypt and in Palestine, also among the lake dwellers of Switzerland, wheat grains being found commonly in various archeological remains. The largest yield of wheat per acre in 1924 at present is to be produced by Great Britain, although the United States exceeds all other countries in the total annual output.

President to Pass Through Kingston

It is expected that the Coolidge special carrying the president and his family will pass through Kingston enroute to Washington some time Saturday afternoon. The presidential special will leave Gabriels on the Adirondacks division of the New York Central probably about 9 o'clock Saturday morning. It is expected to arrive in Ravena about 2 o'clock that afternoon where a short halt will be made to change engines.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Sept. 17.—Hope Lodge, No. 65, Knights of Pythias will meet in their Castle Hall this evening. All members should make an effort to be present as business of importance is to be transacted

Mrs. S. P. Tinnie and son, Wilson, of Broadway, have gone to New York city with Mrs. Tinnie's husband, Samuel Tinnie, who has just returned from a trip to Scotland.

There was a large attendance at the cafeteria supper Thursday evening in the assembly room of the Methodist Church. The supper was served in faultless style and everything cooked to a turn. The whole affair was a complete success both socially and financially.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Arthur Longendyke, who had been secretary of the New York Stock Exchange Building Company for the last four years and was also secretary of the building committee of the company, died Tuesday morning at his home, 138 Henry street, Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., as the result of the breaking of an abscess in his throat following a brief illness. He was 42 years old. His wife and two children survive. Funeral services were held Thursday evening in the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Hasbrouck Heights. Interment took place today at Mount Marion. Mr. Longendyke entered the service of the New York Stock Exchange in 1913 as secretary to H. S. Martin, first assistant secretary of the Exchange. Nine years later he was made secretary of the building company. He was a member of the Council of Hasbrouck Heights and had charge of the work of the Sewer Commission there. He was chairman of the purchasing committee of the National Association of Building Owners and secretary of the Building Managers' and Owners' Association of New York.

Edgar Shultis, for many years a widely known resident of Woodstock, where he had been actively engaged in farming until he retired about ten years ago, died this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Percy L. Croswell, in that village, in his eighty-seventh year. There were few men more active than Mr. Shultis and after a long and useful life he sold his farm, which was one of the largest and most extensive in Woodstock, to Norman T. Boggs, and retired. Mr. Shultis was a life-long resident of Wodstock and was held in high esteem by a wide circle of friends. Funeral services from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Croswell, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, daylight saving time, and from the Lutheran Church at Woodstock at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in the Chestnut Hill Cemetery. Mr. Shultis is survived by six children, Mrs. Augustus Kohler, Mrs. Robert Evory, Mrs. George Shultis and ex-Sheriff Edgar T. Shultis of this city, Myron L. Shultis of Modena and Mrs. Percy L. Croswell of Woodstock, with whom he made his home. He is also survived by ten grandchildren. His wife, Jane Seltzer Shultis, died seven years ago. Three sisters also survive, Mrs. Myra York and Mrs. Katherine Sutton of St. Remy, and Mrs. Joseph Bush of Newburgh; two brothers, William H. Shultis of Kingston and Luther Shultis of Detroit, Mich.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 17 (AP).—A sudden flood of selling orders, released by bear traders, swept over the stock market before midday today and carried prices of scores of issues down 2 to 10 points below yesterday's final quotations. The break followed an opening period of strength during which speculators for the advance endeavored to stir up bullish enthusiasm by bidding up a few special stocks to new high levels for the year, or longer. There was nothing in the day's news to account for the heavy liquidation.

Amusement stocks, which have been bid up in spectacular fashion during the past few weeks, were the first targets of bear operators. Warner Brothers' Pictures "A," which rose from a low of 12 to a high of 69¼ a few days ago, broke ten points below yesterday's final quotation to 52½. Fox Film "A" fell back 3 points.

High grade industrials suffered with the specialties. General Motors, after touching a new high of 154¼ for the present stock, sold down to 151⅛ before it encountered strong buying support. United States Steel common was quickly carried down from 147⅞ to 144¾, rallying moderately from the low level by early afternoon. Among the many other issues to seek three to five points below yesterday's closing figures were Dupont, Pullman, International combustion, Hudson, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Mack Trucks, Continental Baking "A", Montgomery Ward, Woolworth and Atlantic Coast Line.

Mice and Matches

There is a popular belief that fires are often started by mice gnawing on matches. Engineers connected with the Underwriters' laboratories in New York decided to make a test. They put several mice in a cage and gave them nothing to eat but matches. Not one of the mice would touch the matches. After a few days they had to be taken from the cage and released to prevent their starving to death.

Mrs. McPherson Is Seriously Ill

Los Angeles, Sept. 17 (AP)—With the arrest of five persons scheduled by District Attorney Asa Keys and statements of new witnesses adding to the mass of evidence in the Aimee Semple McPherson kidnapping case, the serious illness of the evangelist threatened to delay the third inquiry into her five weeks' disappearance.

Reports of the evangelists' illness Wednesday were followed by her collapse at an Angelus Temple service yesterday and the subsequent announcement of her physician that a dangerous infection might cause death if complications developed. The illness was described as an abscess of the nose, close to the brain. The physician said that although her temperature had dropped from the 102 mark reached last night it would be three days before the danger would be past.

District Attorney Keyes said yesterday he had prepared complaints charging five persons identified with the case of conspiracy to defeat justice. He named Mrs. McPherson, her mother Mrs. Minnie Kennedy; Kenneth G. Ormiston, friend of the evangelist and former Angelus Temple radio operator, John Doe Martin and Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sielaff.

Society Notes

Wolfersteig-Kimble.

Edward S. Wolfersteig of Glasco and Miss May Kimble of West Bridge street, Saugerties, were united in marriage by the Rev. A. de Ruyter, pastor of the Katsbaan Church, on Sunday, September 12.

McCardle-Pillsworth.

Thomas V. McCardle of No. 34 Chapel street and Miss Margaret M. Pillsworth of No. 28 Post street were united in marriage on September 16 by the Rev. J. B. Scully of St. Mary's Church. They were attended by Walter Hoffman and Miss Marie A. McCardle.

Wilkesmann-Auchmoody.

Miss May Auchmoody of Late Katrine and Fred Wilkesmann of Paterson, N. J., were united in marriage at noon Sunday at the parsonage of the St. James M. E. Church by the pastor, the Rev. J. Wilbur Tetley. They were attended by George B. Mayes and Miss Hazel M. Auchmoody. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Wilkesmann will reside in Paterson.

A Surprise Birthday Party.

On Wednesday evening a most delightful surprise party was tendered Chauncey Auchmoody in honor of his birthday at Lincoln Park. Friends gathered from Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Saugerties and Hurley. Each and everyone enjoyed the evening immensely. Old time dancing, singing and game playing added to the evening of pleasures. Mr. Auchmoody received many useful and unique gifts. At midnight dainty refreshments were served and the guests departed voting him a royal entertainer and wishing him many more happy birthdays.

Kirby-Iseman.

Miss Hilda Joan Iseman, daughter of Mr and Mrs. William Iseman of Genesee Park Boulevard, Rochester, former Kingston residents, and Elmo F. Kirby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund H. Kirby of Dewey avenue, Rochester, were united in marriage at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church in Rochester by the Rev. Frederick P. Reissig on Saturday evening, August 21, at 7 o'clock. Organ selections were played by Miss E. Lisson and Miss McCrea sang "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning." The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white georgette caught with white satin petals. Her veil, worn cap fashion, was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Frieda C. Iseman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and wore a gown of orchid tulle and pink taffeta with a picture hat to match. She carried a bouquet of pink rose buds and lilies of the valley. Clifford A. K. Stover was best man. Junior Reissig was ring bearer. Bethene Pink was flower girl and Adrienne Kirby, cousin of the groom, was train bearer. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Kirby left on a motor trip through the Thousand Islands. They will reside at No. 1204 Genesee Park Boulevard, Rochester.

Relics of "Good Old Times"

An oaken gibbet, from which men were hanged in public for sheep stealing up to the year 1800, is preserved over the main entrance of a bank at Ruthin, Wales, on the ruins of the old courthouse. Men, highly skilled in the delicate work, labored to weave this centuries-old relic into the masonry of the new building. The gibbet bears grim traces of frequent use. A deep hole is worn in the wood where the rope was fastened. A sinister-looking dungeon where the prisoners awaited their doom is in the strong room of the bank.

English Water Courses

"The Broads" is the name given to the series of picturesque fresh-water lakes mainly in the English county of Norfolk, but extending into Suffolk. "The Broads" were great estuaries, now largely silted up. Some are in the course of rivers; others are connected with them by artificial channels. There are about a dozen large Broads, the largest being Hickling, with an area of 400 acres. There are 200 miles of navigable water in the district, famous for yachting, fishing and fowling.

THE COUP THAT FAILED

By H. M. EGBERT

(© by W. G. Chapman.)

IT WAS not the shock of arms, but thirst, that threatened to force the devoted city into surrender.

For months the enemy had hurled their lines against the fortress, only to see the gallant troops retire, decimated, baffled by the strong earthworks that promised to hold out indefinitely. And until the city fell the forward march of the victorious army could not continue.

General Lamarche was desperate. He could not leave the fortress in his rear untaken and continue his advance toward the capital of the enemy, for that would mean that his lines of communication would be severed. And behind those walls the enemy was reforming, ready to renew the war in all its pristine vigor.

But for months no drop of rain had fallen. The springs within the city had run dry. The river had been dammed and diverted by the besiegers. And there remained hardly three days' supply of water.

That the city was in need of water General Lamarche knew; but he did not know how near it was to surrender. And every day's delay was worth a thousand men to those within.

It was at this juncture that he gave audience to the man who had begged for an interview daily during the past month.

"Let the fellow come in," he said reluctantly to his aide. "Well, sir?" he demanded, as the ragged, wild-looking fellow stood before him.

"My name is Durand," said the man.

General Lamarche started slightly. "The aviator?" he asked.

Durand bowed his head.

Lamarche, like every Frenchman, knew about Durand. He had been one of the foremost men to develop the dirigible gas-balloon. While others worked upon the airplane, Durand had brought the dirigible almost to perfection. And, at the moment when he was about to see his invention adopted by the French army, he had committed murder—a foul, inexcusable murder while under the influence of absinthe, to which he had become addicted by reason of the mental strain he had undergone.

He was shipped to New Caledonia, but, after serving three years there, he was pardoned and disappeared from the haunts of his associates. That was a year ago, and since then nothing had been heard of him.

"I want to do something for my country," Durand explained.

"You shall be attached to the airplane division," answered Lamarche.

Durand laughed quietly. "I do not wish to become a private aviator," he said. "I have a plan by which you can capture Fort Gleichen."

"What is it?" asked Lamarche impatiently. He had had a thousand plans submitted to him during the past three months.

"Give me a thousand pounds of melinite," answered Durand, "and I will blow it into the earth. I will blow away all traces of it."

"If there is a thousand pounds of melinite to spare in France you shall have it, provided you can convince me of the feasibility of your scheme," the general answered.

"It is very simple," replied Durand. "In the mountains of the Vosges, where I have lived during the last year, I have my perfected dirigible. I will load it with a thousand pounds of melinite, which is as much as it will carry, in addition to my own weight. I will steer it above Fort Gleichen, pull the valve open, after calculating the descent, and escape in my parachute. The balloon will drop squarely into the center of the fort and blow it from the face of the earth."

They talked over the project for a while, and the more Durand explained, the more feasible his proposal appeared to the French general.

Of course, from an airplane, only small bombs could be dropped. But there was no reason why a balloon should not contain a thousand pounds of melinite, an explosive deadly enough to obliterate all trace of the famous stronghold that barred the advance of the army. It was obvious, furthermore, that the dead weight of the load, after the valve had been opened, would send the dirigible to earth with a speed and aim that nothing could avert.

Seven days later Durand, with a thousand pounds of melinite in his dirigible balloon, and the parachute attached to the aluminum stern, rose slowly above the French camp into the air.

From the walls of the fortress the besieged general, glass to his eyes, watched and wondered at this new maneuver.

He had sworn never to surrender, and by heroic privations his men had managed to contrive still another day's supply of water, though nearly all their animals were dead of thirst. It was the general's intention to cut his way out at the head of his troops on the morrow, and die upon the field —unless it rained.

But the parched heavens refused to open. Day and night were one brazen glow of heat. All night heat lightning played on the horizon, and sometimes the distant muttering of thunder was heard, but never a drop of rain had fallen.

Durand rose slowly into the air, and, as he did so, the airguns of the fortress opened fire upon him. But it is the most difficult thing in the world to hit a quickly rising balloon, and neither Durand nor Lamarche had any fears on that score. If the balloon were hit, the melinite would explode in the air and the balloon and aviator would vanish, but no harm would come to the besiegers. At worst, the experiment would harm nobody.

At an altitude of two thousand feet the balloon was safe from danger. Durand smiled as he heard the great shells whizzing around him. He knew that only a miracle of marksmanship could bring him down.

At four thousand feet Durand was only a speck in the sky, hardly to be discerned even through Lamarche's glasses. The French camp strained its eyes upward. The report of the broken man's exploit, which was to restore his honor and bring, no doubt, the ribbon of the Legion of Honor, had become universal. And in the beleaguered fortress for the first time an inkling of the airman's intentions became obvious when a tiny speck was seen to detach itself from the slightly larger mass and drop toward earth.

Instantly it had begun the swift descent, while the balloon, relieved of its slighter burden, shot upward, in spite of the rapid escape of gas. The dirigible ascended five hundred feet before it paused, stood still, and then began its downward rush.

Durand had planned his descent so that it should carry him into the French lines. But to his horror a sudden breeze drove the parachute straight toward the inside of the fortress walls. And then, resigning himself to the inevitable, he devoted all his efforts toward saving his life, rather than attempting to gain the camp of the besiegers, which would mean an instant drop to death.

It was about a minute after he had pulled the cord of the valve when Durand dropped, unharmed, at the feet of the general in defense of Fort Gleichen.

But nobody noticed him, for all eyes were strained upward to where the great balloon came whirling down, straight toward the fortress. Here Durand had not miscalculated. It fell true as an arrow, and the heat lightning played about it and—

Boom!

The most awful detonation that had ever been heard since war began filled the whole air with sound. A coil of cloud enveloped everything and shut out the sunlight. Slowly it drifted away. And every one knew what had occurred. The dirigible had been struck by lightning during its descent.

An instant later the sun disappeared. And suddenly, with the sound of a million bullets, hailstones the size of pigeons' eggs whizzed to the earth, followed by a drenching downpour.

Never had it rained as it rained that afternoon. The water fell in torrents. It was as though a million hoses were turned earthward from the heavens. In two minutes the camps were flooded. The streets of the beleaguered town ran water. Men flung themselves upon their faces and wallowed in the precious rain. From every house buckets, bathtubs, implements of every kind were outstretched to hold the life-giving water. The cisterns overflowed. The beseiged city was saved.

Durand stood before the general within the fortress. His hope had failed by the interposition of the unexpected element, fate, which sends so many schemes agley.

He expected death. He was not even in uniform—a hopeless, ragged ex-convict, bearing the stamp of shame upon his furrowed face.

The general turned to him. "Do you know what is going to happen to you?"

"A firing party, I suppose," Durand muttered.

"No," answered the general quietly. "You are going to make a balloon for us."

An interesting example of detective work in the forest service recently occurred in California, when officers of the forest service secured evidence against an automobilist who violated the camp-fire regulations before the camp fire was even built. This sounds like Sherlock Holmes, but here is how it happened:

A tourist from one of the Eastern states established a temporary camp in the Trinity National forest, California. On an inspection trip a forest ranger photographed this particular camp to secure a picture for use in a report on camping sites in his district.

A few days later this ranger was called out to fight a forest fire that had plainly started from a camp fire left burning by some careless camper who had moved on to parts unknown. The ranger remembered having included an automobile in the photograph he had taken of this particular camp site a few days before. Hurrying back to headquarters he examined the negative, and with the aid of a magnifying glass picked out the number of the license plate on the pictured automobile. He then sent a description over the telephone to adjacent towns and ranger stations and landed his man, who admitted his carelessness, paid his fine, and continued on his way with a new appreciation of what was meant by "Be sure your camp fire is out—then bury it."

Last year the Columbia river produced the greatest catch of salmon on record.

Western League 'Scandal' Quashed

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 17 (AP)—The Western League pennant race "scandal" today was quashed by M. H. Sexton, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

In a decision made public here President Sexton exonerated the Des Moines, Lincoln, Omaha and Tulsa clubs and Casey Mills of the Lincoln club of charges filed by Oklahoma City fans involving alleged irregularities designed to aid Des Moines in its close pennant race with Oklahoma City.

Commenting on the decision President Sexton warned against insinuations against regularity of the sport, declaring more thought should be given the consequences of scandalous charges.

The complaint, first filed with Baseball Commissioner Landis referred by him to President Sexton, included a statement that Mills had declared that his team was "for Des Moines" and would "see that Oklahoma City does not win the pennant."

ABOUT THE FOLKS

George Wortman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wortman and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ahl have returned home after spending a week at Scranton and Philadelphia.

Arthur Kwant of the shipping department of the Canfield Supply Company, has returned after spending a most enjoyable vacation at the mountain resorts.

The Misses Lillie and Farrila McKinnon, teachers of schools in Laurel, Delaware, and Ocean Grove, N. J., respectively, have returned to their positions after spending some time with their parents at their home 52 Delaware avenue.

Not Good Weather Sign

The weather bureau says that the position of the lunar crescent depends upon the angle that the moon's path makes with the horizon, and on any given date it is always the same in places having the same latitude. If this weather sign were trustworthy, the same kind of weather, either dry or rainy, would prevail on any given date throughout a belt of latitude extending entirely around the globe. Of course, there is no such uniformity of weather in relation to latitude. Near the equator the position of the young moon never makes an angle of more than 30 degrees with the horizon, and it is generally in an even more nearly horizontal position, so that in a part of the world notorious for regions of heavy rainfall, the moon is, according to the proverb, always a "dry" one.

Words Are Jefferson's

It was Thomas Jefferson, and not Washington, who in his first inaugural address spoke of "peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations, entangling alliances with none." In Washington's farewell address, he said: "It is our true policy to steer clear of permanent alliances with any portion of the foreign world." It will be noticed that Washington spoke of "permanent alliance." In a speech to congress Washington said: "To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace." This is frequently misquoted by omitting the words "one of."

Goat's Milk Valuable

People do not always realize that goat's milk is free from "T. B.," and is especially suitable for children. The milk globules are much smaller than are those of cow's milk, consequently it is more easily digested. The milk does not readily sour, and is particularly nice to have during warm weather on that account.

Saturday Expected to See Tented [Ex]position Thronged With Visit[ors]—Many Entries for Charleston [Con]test Saturday Night—Kingst[on] Perfect Baby Is Being Judged [This] Afternoon.

Kingston's tented Exposition [at] the Kingston Fair Grounds drew [an]other record attendance both a[fter]noon and evening on Thursday, w[hen] the fine vaudeville pleased whil[e] of the booths came in for praise [and] attention from those who thron[ged] the aisles. From the booths of [the] exhibit it is possible to furnish [a] house from top to bottom, in addit[ion] to having your choice of any [par]ticular make of automobile to p[ut] in the garage.

This afternoon drew anot[her] large attendance as it was "B[aby] Judging Day" at the Exposit[ion] when twenty-two babies were [en]tered in the contest for Kingst[on's] perfect baby. Over one hundred [en]tries had been received in the c[on]test, and all but twenty-two had b[een] eliminated.

This evening another record att[en]dance is expected, and Saturday [af]ternoon and evening will witness [the] close of the most successful exp[osi]tion held in the history of the c[ity]. The big event of Saturday eve[ning] is the Charleston contest, and a nu[m]ber of entries have been receiv[ed]. Handsome prizes will be awarded [to] the best dancers.

Odds and Ends

The New Era League of the F[irst] Presbyterian Church are plann[ing] to hold a rummage sale from Se[pt]ember 27 to October 2 on the cor[ner] of Cedar street and Broadway. [The] ladies have already received m[any] articles for the sale including [all] kinds of clothing, furniture and hand-vacuum cleaner. Anyone hav[ing] articles that they would like to [do]nate to the society for the sale m[ay] leave them at the First Presbyter[ian] Church on Elmendorf street or c[all] Mrs. Graham, 1052-M, and some[one] will be sent to collect the articles.

Australian Wants Prohibition Law

pitals has gone from 50 prior to prohibition to 12 now.

Challenges Buckner.

He challenged the statement of Mr. Buckner that there had been 5,1[illegible] deaths in New York in 11 months in 1925 from alcoholic poisoning and said that Mr. Buckner failed to tell how many deaths there had been prior to prohibition when "good" liquor was obtainable to the saloons. In 1916 with 8,000 saloons selling "good" liquor there had been 6,[illegible] deaths.

Mr. Gordon said that in 1920, the only year that prohibition had a chance in New York, there were but 84 deaths and that was before the bootlegger was organized.

Repeat Statements as Facts.

Prohibition had shown its possibilities. He urged everyone to give it a chance and stated that it was a fact that many people who believe in the dry law were doing much to overthrow it and nullify its effects by their talk. Even Sunday school teachers and deacons were telling how the young people were never faced with such a liquor problem as since prohibition. They heard these statements and repeated them as facts. The liquor traffic always did get its recruits from the young, said Mr. Gordon, even before prohibition.

Doubts Hip Flask Talk.

He attacked the statement that young men and women in the high schools of the country were becoming liquor users, carrying hip flasks. It was impossible for him to believe that the rank and file of the high school students were doing such a thing. It was unfair to judge the whole by a few. We should not take such statements for granted, he said. The same thing was being said of the youth of Australia as of America and they did not have prohibition in Australia to blame it on. In America we say "it is prohibition", but in Australia that can't be said.

There was a great disrespect for law here. The same was true in Australia, he said. In America it is blamed to prohibition but it can't be so blamed in this land. They are trying to learn the cause because there it can't be saddled on prohibition.

Must Not Believe Wet Talk.

He warned his audience not to believe the talk of the wets, it was propaganda, but it is fooling a lot of people.

Modification, he said, was not a solution of the problem. He cited the Quebec law and stated that it was possible to get 4, 8, 10 and 12 per cent beer there. Modification only makes matters worse. He urged strict enforcement of the present law. To uphold his contention of modification and government control system he read several clippings from the public press.

Wants World Wide Prohibition.

In closing he said, "modification is no solution. A rigid enforcement of the Volstead law and unswerving loyalty to the Constitution is the solution. World wide prohibition is what I am interested in and it can only come by the aid of the U. S. A."

Cristman Wants More Teeth.

Franklin W. Cristman, introduced by Mrs. Palen as "our dry candidate for Senator," was next introduced to the audience which half filled the body of the church.

Mr. Cristman said he was not going to make a speech, he would reserve that for the evening. In opening, he said that if he were elected to the senate he would enforce the present dry law, he would put teeth in it so that men found guilty of violating it would go to jail. A man who wilfully violates a law, an organic law of the country, is as guilty of treason as is the soldier who sleeps at his post in time of war. He expressed his appreciation for the work which the W. C. T. U. was doing and stated that the woman vote was a big factor, but a factor which could be depended on at election. The women could always be depended on to vote the right way if they understood the issue at hand.

For many years the country had wrestled with the whiskey problem and it was finally settled by the adoption of the 18th Amendment. This solution must stand and would stand, he said.

Care In Selecting Judges.

Judges he said were sworn to uphold the law but when the courts don't stand by the law and let men off with small fines it was time to make most careful selections of the officials on the bench.

Modification of the 18th Amendment, he said means the return of the saloons and that was the problem of the people at the fall election. Senator Wadsworth he said would repeal and make null the 18th Amendment and that means the return of the saloon.

Mr Cristman said Senator Wadsworth says he is in favor of enforcement but if the 18th Amendment was repealed what would he give? There is nothing to do if the 18th Amendment is repealed but to return to the saloon. Mr Cristman said he believed that the 18th Amendment would stand as long as the United States government stood.

In closing he announced he would attack the record of Senator Wadsworth at his address in the evening.

Delivery Planes in Alps

Austrians are using airplanes for transporting supplies to the almost inaccessible regions in the higher Alps. In a test building material was just thrown overboard as the planes approached the place as near as safety justified. Food supplies were thrown out in padded sacks. Even beer in bottles was floated down in slings attached to small parachutes. Recently a Tyrol plane was revictualing an isolated mountain hut near Kuchtal. The motor suddenly stopped and the pilot was forced to pancake on the tops of some pines. He was badly injured. The plane was damaged and had to be taken apart and carried down the mountain by mules.—Chicago News.

RAMBOUILLET GIVE HEAVIEST FLEECES

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Wool growers are accustomed to think that yearlings shear the heaviest fleeces of any age group. Recent tests made by D. A. Spencer, in charge of the sheep-and-wool investigations, United States Department of Agriculture, do not bear out this popular belief. Averaging the weight of fleeces of 1,400 Rambouillet sheep ranging in age from one to seven years old, he found that the three-year-old ewes sheared the heaviest fleeces of clean wool produced by any group, their average being 13 per cent greater than the average for the entire group.

The fleeces from ewes seven years old or older averaged 15 per cent below the average and were the lightest fleeces produced by any age group. The yearlings' fleeces were nearly 8 per cent below the average, and with the exception of the seven-year-old group they were the lightest, in spite of the fact that they had grown for about thirteen or fourteen months, while all the fleeces from ewes older than yearlings had grown exactly one year.

On the whole, the data show that the trend is up from yearlings to three-year-olds and down from three-year-olds to seven-year-olds. The fleeces were grown under practical range conditions at the United States sheep experiment station, Dubois, Idaho.

Feed Pigs Liberally to Obtain Greatest Gains

It has been conclusively demonstrated many times that the younger the animal the greater the gains it makes from a given amount of feed. It costs considerably less to put 100 pounds of gain on a 40-pound pig after weaning than to put the same gain on a 150-pound pig. Furthermore, it costs less to bring a pig up to the market weight of 225 pounds, if it is kept in strong, thrifty condition from birth than when its growth and development for lack of feed are arrested at any time during that period.

In view of this, the man who feeds his pigs all they will eat of grain and pasture, if a well-balanced ration is provided, may feel confident that his pigs will reach 225 pounds in weight at a lower cost than when a very limited grain ration is fed during the summer months while the pigs run on pasture. When there are reasons for believing that the early fall market will be better than two or three months later there is another reason for crowding the pigs. During the last 22 years the general average hog price in Chicago was $8.75 for October and $8.01 for December; for the last five years it was $12.53 for October and $11.18 for December.

Self-Feeder Convenient in Feeding Live Stock

The self-feeder is not only a convenience in feeding live stock, but has a sanitary value which should not be underestimated. This is especially so in the case of swine and poultry, because those animals, on account of their feeding habits, are particularly exposed to the danger of becoming infected by having their feed contaminated by the droppings of their kind.

Feeding from the ground always is accompanied by this risk and this can be reduced by the use of the self-feeder. This utensil should be so constructed as to reduce the introduction of filth to a minimum and to make it impossible for the animals to contaminate the contents with their body wastes. For the same reason they periodically should be subjected to a thorough cleaning.

Safeguard From Infection

Before the sow is put into her pen it is well as a safeguard from infection to drive her into an unused pen and there brush or wash from her udders any filth which might be adhering. This sort of a procedure gives the pig a chance to nurse from a clean udder and start life free from infection. This act is being quite generally practiced by progressive swine raisers. Where sows farrow out on the pasture it may not be quite so essential.

Sow After Farrowing

For 24 hours after farrowing the sow does not need any feed and none should be offered to her. She should have plenty of fresh water warmed sufficiently to take off the chill. The same kind of feed used immediately before farrowing may be used beginning the next day (24 hours) after farrowing. A meal composed of equal parts shorts or middlings, bran, and ground oats or barley, made into a thin slop and fed sparingly, is good.

Live Stock Items

Corn, skim milk and alfalfa hay make satisfactory brood-sow fare.

Firemen's Coffee Stall

In London, England, the equipment of the firemen is usually followed to a fire by a green motor van. This is the London firemen's coffee stall. It attends all fires that are likely to prove "long jobs," and does invaluable work in supplying snack meals to the men, who would otherwise be forced to spend hours without food or drink. The van holds three twenty-gallon urns, two filled with boiling water and one containing cocoa. A large cupboard on one side of the van contains numerous tins of biscuits and large mugs. The other side is on a hinge and can be supported to make a shelter for the men when they refresh themselves at the improvised counter. The cook rides inside the van and is assisted by the driver in dispensing the food. The van, which started as a horse-drawn vehicle, will shortly celebrate its twenty-fifth birthday.

Prehistoric Workshop

A complete prehistoric workshop containing 17 heaps of flint tools and weapons numbering altogether 4,000 pieces was recently discovered by geologists at Frindsbury, Rochester, in the Valley of Medway, England.

The tools, according to reports of the find, include hand axes of large flint flakes, hammer stones of quartz, and large rounded pieces of flint.

The discovery was made in a queer saucer-shaped depression in a chalk cliff, and the relics are believed to date from the mid-pleistocene times—the age supposed to precede immediately that of man.
